Big Atlantic Liner Races To Aid Of Ship In Distress

Liner Wins Race To Save Sinking Ship And Its Crew

Mauretania Reaches Side Of Stricken Swedish Freighter Ovidia

EXPECT TO SAVE CAPTAIN AND CREW

Four Other Vessels Answer Distress Signal Of Vessel Adrift In Atlantic

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 19. — The giant liner Mauretania has reached the side of the sinking Swedish freight steamship Ovidia, according to radio reports picked up shortly before noon today.

As far as could be learned the officers and crew to the number of nearly half a hundred were still aboard the crippled Ovidia when the Mauretania hove into sight.

Captain George Fried, hero of many sea rescues, had been rushing at full speed toward the stricken Ovidia aboard the S. S. America and the steamship Endicott was also proceeding to the rescue but handicapped by the speed of the America.

Others Rush Aid.

Other steamships in the vicinity were said to be Empress of Austria William J. O'Brien, Thray and Samaria. The report was to the effect that the Ovidia had foundered and her crew had taken to the lifeboats before the rescue vessels approached.

The Ovidia was approximately

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One banker casually remarked to Pa Newc today that out-of-doors it doesn't seem much like the pre-yuletide season, although indoors the preparation of Christmas savings checks is the biggest job banks are tackling now.

Pa Newc heard a man remark the other morning while the fog seemed to be at its heaviest, that the day would be nice and clear because the fog was beating down, and sure enough it turned out that way.

According to a visitor here yesterday, many residents of New York are trying to solve the unemployment proglem by selling apples on the streets. Almost any direction one looks, he stated, one can see people selling apples.

Yesterday turned out to be one of the nicest days we have had this fall. Makes a fellow almost wish he hadn't put his "heavies" on, but things will be different in a few days, the weather man states.

Local streams are at the lowest ebb they have ever been. They look almost like little rivulets, compared to former years. The removal of the Rosena dam has made a big difference in the Neshannock. Formerly the water backed up in the creek to a point north of the East Washington street bridge.

State Highway officials in the Bureau of Motor Vehicle Licenses report that people are very slow in applying for licenses this year. There

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 19.—Modern football has got some queer customs.

The heroes can have all the girls they want, but they are not allowed to marry one of 'em.

They can play for their tuition, board and room and a moderate salary, but they are not allowed to do it "for the wife and kiddies."

Poor Knute Rockne! In his time he has lost games by bad umpiring, illness, failure to kick goal and every ordinary known method, but if he loses this year it will be the first time that a justice of the peace ever beat him out of a championship.

Well, one thing sure, you can look at Harvard and Yale and Princeton play and tell that they are single. If any girl ever falls in love with them it will be somebody that didn't have a ticket to any of the games.

North Street Is Being Used

Newly Paved Street Between East Street And Neshannock Avenue Opened Today

NEW STREET NOW FIVE FEET WIDER

North street, between East street and Neshannock avenue, was open to traffic this morning, and was being used by an almost constant flow of automobiles.

For many weeks this street, which connects Jefferson street with the North street bridge, has been closed while workmen repaved and widened it. It is now complete except for a few minor finishing touches and stands as one of the finest paving jobs in the city.

Traffic is passing east and west through the street; and the North street bridge is being used more today than on any one day since it was built.

There are a few obstructions on the new street. Cement mixers and piles of gravel make it not the best street for heavy traffic at present, but in a day or so the obstructions will be removed.

Today the workmen are building retaining walls in front of lawn banks. The banks were necessarily cut back in order to make the street 2½ feet wider on each side.

The paving is brick. New sidewalks were constructed all along the street and on both sides.

Wounded Officer Is Under Guard In Chicago Hospital

Gangsters Foiled In Attempt To Enter Hospital And Kill Wounded Man

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Additional guards were posted at the bedside of Police Sergeant James McBride at Westlake hospital today after a gang of gunmen attempted to gain entrance to his room and finish the murder they tried three weeks ago.

McBride, near death from wounds suffered in an earlier attempt to kill him, is the state's leading witness in the murder trial of "Three Fingered" Jack White, reputed racketeer with known Capone affiliations.

Eluding five police guards at the hospital the would-be assassins climbed to the roof, removed a window screen and were about to climb into the fifth floor window when the screams of a nurse, Miss Helen McGuire, frightened the gang. As they fled a ladder leading to the roof clattered to the ground.

The second attempt on McBride's life was made eight hours after the release of Claud Maddox on bond. Maddox, a Capone lieutenant, was identified as the policeman's assailant in the shooting three weeks ago.

Mutilated Body Scattered Along B. And O. Tracks

Section Gang In Charge Of J. J. Marco Makes Gruesome Find At Edenburg

NOTHING TO IDENTIFY BODY IS DISCOVERED

Believed That Man Either Was Struck Or Fell From B. And O. Train

Scattered along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks at Edenburg the dismembered body of a man was found by a section gang in charge of John J. Marco early this morning. It was almost a quarter of a mile from the place where the head was found to where the heel of one foot was picked up.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell and an ambulance were summoned. Investigation by the coroner indicated that the man had been struck or had fallen from a train about one-fourth mile west of the Edenburg crossing. The first indication of the accident was seen on the end of a railroad tie which had been struck by the body. Some 50 feet further west the man's head was found. It was covered with dark brown hair. The face was too badly disfigured to be recognizable. His teeth would indicate that he might have been a man between 30 and 40 years of age. It was impossible to tell his nationality, except that he was a white man.

No Identifying Marks.

Possibly 100 feet from the head the part of one leg was found, some 200 feet further on a part of the body, then a foot and other parts of the body and lastly a part of one heel. His clothing was also found scattered along the track. The man had worn a dark suit, blue overalls and a blouse.

There was nothing in the pockets of the clothing by which he could be positively identified. The only articles found were a comb, safety razor in a nickel case, a lock knife sometimes called a switch knife, as the blades fly open by pressing a spring. There was also a broken Ingram watch, "Viceroy" trademark. The watch had stopped at ten minutes after 10 o'clock, which may have been the time of the accident as there is a passenger train scheduled about that time.

In looking over the clothing it was found that the man had worn a gray wool shirt. It had been laundered and bore the initials S. K. which are believed to be the first letters of the man's name. On the inside of the shirt are the letters U. S. A.

It is not yet known whether the man was a resident of the community or was a stranger. So far nobody in the vicinity is reported missing.

K. F. Wright, lieutenant of the Baltimore & Ohio police, is also conducting an investigation to ascer-

Forty Arrested In Spanish Plot

Forty Political Agitators Arrested In Madrid For Alleged Plot

PLOT AGAINST SPANISH THRONE

(International News Service)

MADRID, Nov. 19.—Forty political agitators were under arrest here today as a result of almost unprecedented police action following reports of a widespread civil and military plot against the Spanish monarchy.

The men were rounded up during the night as thousands of hastily mobilized national police patrolled the streets of the city, arresting suspected characters on sight.

It was reported that the alleged plot was fostered by Republican elements, who until now had been inactive in the succession of general strikes which took place throughout the country. They were to have been aided by artillery men, who were reported to have backed out at the last moment.

The plot was said to have had ramifications in the provinces.

Two Counties To Have Dual Session

Same Speakers For Events In Mercer And Lawrence Counties

If present plans mature the same speakers will be used this year in Lawrence and Mercer counties at the annual conventions of school directors, which will be held some time in January.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling has not yet announced the exact date.

The plan is to have the speakers attend the Lawrence county convention first and then go to Mercer county. By using the same speakers the conventions will be able to save money on the speakers.

Archduke Otto May Not Take Throne As New Hungarian King

Ambitions Of Empress Zita To See Son Crowned Are Blasted By Situation

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 19.— A royal mother's dream of leading her son to the throne of Hungary on his 18th birthday and later perhaps to the resurrected throne of his father as Emperor of Austria and Hungary apparently was fated to continue unrealized today on the eve of the Prince's coming of age.

The eighteenth natal anniversary of Archduke Otto of the Hapsburgs, occurring tomorrow, seemingly offers little in the way of encouraging the hopes and royal aspirations of Empress Zita, his mother. All available information indicated that the projected proclamation of Otto as King of Hungary tomorrow had been definitely postponed on account of an adverse political situation.

Restoration of the Hapsburg line to its full pre-war glory and a possible revival of the dual empire composed the dream of a strong faction of Monarchists headed by the former Empress, whose hopes appeared bright from time to time. It was understood that France, Italy and Great Britain were generally agreeable to Otto's ascension to the Hungarian throne, but reported aspirations by his supporters to place him at the head of a new dual empire were believed to have fostered complications.

Mother And Three Children Burn To Death In Flames

Believe Oil Lamp Exploded Setting Fire To Home—Burned Bodies Are Found

(International News Service)

FAIRFAX COURT HOUSE, Va. Nov. 19.—Mrs. Bernice Sullivan and her three small children were dead today, victims of a fire that destroyed the Sullivan farm house near Colvin Run, this county.

The bodies were found in the cellar by Daniel Sullivan, the husband and father, after he had raced from an adjoining farm where he saw the flames.

Firemen believed the oil lamp Mrs. Sullivan usually carried exploded.

Fog Compels Woman Flier To Turn Back

Mrs. Keith-Miller Starts For Havana But Fog Balks Effort

PLANS NEW START THURSDAY MORNING

Left Pittsburgh Early And Got Only As Far As Latrobe

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—Balked by an impenetrable wall of fog, Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix who had taken off early this morning in an attempt to fly from Pittsburgh to Havana, returned.

Mrs. Miller, alighting from her Eaglerock Bullet plane, said she decided to turn back while over Latrobe, Pa., when she gained an altitude of 10,000 feet only to find that the fog still persisted.

Weather permitting, she will take off again tomorrow.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—Mrs. J. M. Keith famous Australian aviatrix, took off today from the Pittsburgh-Butler airport, near here, in her Eaglerock monoplane for a two-stop flight to Havana, Cuba.

The plane soared into the air at 7:42 a. m. and headed directly south for the first stop at Jacksonville, Fla., for refueling.

Dangerous mountains and fog may be encountered by the daring woman flyer as she passes over West Virginia, in which case, she said before taking off, she would make a stop at Charlotte, N. C., before taking off for Jacksonville.

Over Sea to Havana.

After Jacksonville, Mrs. Miller will fly due south again to Miami where she will clear the customs. From there she will follow the southern coast line over Key West, and then across the sea to Havana.

She plans to make the entire flight in 10 or 12 hours unless she encounters head winds. Mrs. Miller said she would average 100 miles an hour in the tiny craft.

No Final Exams At High School

New System Being Tried Out At Local Senior High

REGULAR EXAMS DURING TERMS

In a statement this morning Principal F. L. Orth of the senior high school announced that at the end of each semester, students will not be given a final examination in each subject, as in other years.

Instead of the final examination a number of tests will be given during the semester. At the end of the semester the grades made by the students in each test will be averaged together and a grade for the semester given. The number of tests issued during the semester depends on the teacher.

It is believed that this system will save time, eliminate nervous condition of students when final examination time would come around, will make the students put in their best efforts, and will add more days of class work. It will also allow better work on the part of the teachers.

By giving the "exams" at different times during the semester it is believed that the students will do much better work. At examination time it generally required two and three weeks to give the examinations. By this system the school work can continue without any interruption.

Principal F. L. Orth stated that this system will be tried out this school year and , it proves satisfactory it will be a permanent one at the high school.

Plaingrove Road Is Opened For Traffic

Surfacing Date In Doubt, Motorists To Use Road Face Throughout Winter Months

The two-mile stretch of highway off route 233 into Plaingrove, between New Castle and Slippery Rock has been opened for traffic by the state highway department. H. W. Lightner, state highway department superintendent for Lawrence and Mercer counties, said today that although the water bound macadam road has been opened the surface has not been oiled.

Lightner said he doubted whether the surfacing would be started this year, but added that motorists would be permitted to travel over the road until the work is started.

Mayor's Relief Body Convenes

Discusses Need For Action In Providing Relief In City

NEWS SUGGESTIONS HIGHLY COMMENDED

Mayor William H. Gillespie's relief committee met last night in city hall elected officers and discussed ways and means by which distress, resulting from unemployment, may be alleviated as much as possible. Various plans were proposed for stimulating employment.

The officers named follow: chairman, Mayor Gillespie; vice chairmen, H. L. Gordon and John Bevan; secretary, Ivor Richards, treasurer, Louis McClung and chairman of employment, DeGraff Pearson. The foregoing men were named also as an executive committee with authority to meet at the round-table with other welfare committees and to also name subcommittees.

The mayor said in opening the meeting that the purpose is to aid our own people. He said that it should not be necessary that in order to receive relief that the person be a pauper. He pointed out that a person may have an equity in a property, yet be out of work, but due to existing legislation be unable to receive relief from the county.

Need Central Clearing House

Ivor Davis stated there should be a clearing house and Orville Potter said there are funds available here for the care of persons who are ill and who undergo distress following deaths. The mayor told the committee there are men idle who are too proud to ask for charity and Mr. Potter, in return, stated that he believes the paramount issue is the unemployment problem.

Dr. Wayne Bissell, superintendent of the Jameson Memorial hospital, stated that a person to be worthy of aid, necessarily does not need to be a pauper and told how the hospitals and churches could prepare meals for distribution at churches if conditions came to that point. He said the city could be allotted into districts and a registration taken of the unemployed.

He also suggested that the executive committee convene with other welfare committees at the round-

Continue Search For Lost Plane

Reported Fire Seen On Mountain Top Leads Hope To Searchers

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 19.—Reports that a fire had been observed on the snowy top of Mt. Frazier early today spurred on the search for the lost Pacific air transport mail plane.

Pilots of two planes reported the sighting of a fire, a searching party was immediately formed at Lebec to investigate.

Fog and intense cold hampered the work of searchers yesterday. Because of the bitter cold in the mountains considerable apprehension is felt for the safety of the trio even if the pilot was able to land the plane safely.

The annual election of directors will be held during the course of the evening. Six new directors are to be named to take the places of the following whose terms expire this year: William McKeown, Ira Ramsey, J. C. Miner, Chester P. Reynolds, John Abel and B. F. Moorhead.

The nominees are: John Abel, J. C. Miner, Harry Gormley, Archie Cohen, Carl Paisley, Ivor V. Davis, Abraham Fisher, James F. Moorhead, Dr. W. L. Campbell, Norman D. Clark, F. W. Eakin and William Braatz.

Mayor Thompson To Stimulate Business Through Big Prizes

Chicago Mayor Plans To Expend Million In Prizes To Aid Business

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Mayor William Hale Thompson's plan to stimulate business through the issuance of $1,000,000 worth of prizes today had the legal sanction of corporation counsel Samuel Ettelson.

Under the mayor's plan, $1,000,000 is to be given away in 16,503 cash prizes to holders of tickets obtained from merchants with each 25 cent purchase. The mayor has not made public how the numbers of the winning tickets will be selected.

On receipt of the lawyer's opinion, the mayor ordered 500,000,000 coupons printed. Corporation Counsel Ettelson's sanction was regarded as the removal of the last possible obstacle to the business stimulating plan.

The P. L. and M. railroad was having a stretch of new road constructed. During the progress of the work it was necessary to make a deep excavation in a certain place near the home of Warren Timm. The fresh earth was piled up around there and it dammed up a small stream near the house and thus ponded the water from it. The water flooded the basement of Timm's house and even affected the foundation.

In addition to this the camp of the men working on the construction was also stationed near Timm's house. Fills were permitted to accumulate and soon malaria and other diseases sprang up among the men and eventually both Timm and Mrs. Timm became ill and remained so for several weeks and had to be taken care of by relatives.

At last Timm recovered and almost the first time he walked he went to his lawyer and filed suit against the railroad company for damages. At the trial the railroad answered that it did not do any of the things of which Mr. Timm complained; that if they were done they were done by the construction company, an independent contractor, which the railroad had employed to build that stretch of railroad.

How would you decide this case? Make up your mind before you read the decision.

will probably be a last minute rush, just as there was among car owners to have their machines inspected during the recent inspection period.

Characters of the little drama were—the girl who had the kiddy car, the boy who captured the kiddy car and the girl who wanted the kiddy car. The scene took place on Rose avenue, in front of the school. The kiddy car changed hands three times and created two outbursts of tears. The girl who finally got the car, didn't seem so very happy about it either! Such is life.

Pa Newc deteced two baby Christmas trees growing in front of a home at the intersection of Beckford and East Washington streets, yesterday. The little twins are carefully guarded from the cruel world, with two little fences. They will have to grow mighty fast to be adults by Christmas!

Children start young to learn how to play basketball. Pa Newc was nosing around in Rose avenue school on Monday afternoon and looked in the gymnasium. He saw Miss Lucile Lutton busy instructing 40 or 50 youngsters in the art of throwing basketballs. Then they were allowed to play a game in which the girls are supposed to hit the boys with a volley ball. The boys proved foxy dodgers and very few were touched by the ball whizzing through the air. The girls got "rawther regusted".

A truck on Cunningham avenue sported this sign: "Look Out For Quick Stops". Could that have been an advertisement for brakes?

One of the regular studies in many of the local grade schools is "Posture". Pa Newc was talking to Miss Frances Myers of the Thaddeus Stevens school faculty the other day and she mentioned the drills in posture that are held several days a week. The children drill from benches.

Have you been over to the public library to see the book exhibit? Stop over there sometime this week with the exception of Friday evening, and look over the display of children's books in the new children's room.

Depression or no depression, it is no easier to find a parking place downtown at night. Pa Newc drove around eight or ten blocks last night to find a space big enough to edge in a car for a short time.

Pa Newc observes that several old houses along Moravia street, near Long avenue, owned by the B. and O. railroad company are being razed. The places have not been occupied for some time and have been falling into decay. There are very few structures on the west side of Moravia street from the old B. R. and P. station south to Gardner avenue at the present time.

With the completion of hose testing at No. 7 station the overhauling of equipment at fire headquarters is at its height. Today members of central station were going over the stores in the supply room and putting things in order. On Tuesday the A ladder truck was cleaned and the big life net, it has never been used since its purchase, was taken off and inspected.

Two thousand feet of six-inch line has been finished on the Harlansburg road by the City of New Castle Water Company. The project cost $7,000. Now residents in the vicinity have a water supply at last.

How many churches are there in New Castle? Right off hand mighty few people in New Castle could answer this question. It stumped Pa Newc himself, when an inquiry in this regard was made of him this morning. Referring to the last directory issued, he found 81 churches of all denominations were listed. In other words there is one church for every 600 men, women and children in the city.

1400 miles east of Boston on the 42nd parallel.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Captain George Fried, veteran rescuer of the sea, was pushing his ship America at top speed today toward the sinking Swedish steamship Ovidia.

Captain Fried, without a second thought, took his ship off her course on receiving the S. O. S. from the stricken Swedish vessel.

The Ovidia sent out her first S. O. S. at 1:45 a. m. The message was: "In distress and sinking. Latitude 42n. longitude 50' 52" w. Cannot seem to raise anyone."

S. O. S. is Answered.

The next message picked up here was from the S. S. Endicott. It read:

"To the S. S. Ovidia: We are 75 miles to the eastward and will come to your assistance. Expect to arrive about 8 a. m."

Three other ships also left their courses to proceed to the aid of the sinking freighter.

The S. S. America, veteran of sea rescues, radioed at 3 a. m. that she was rushing to the Ovidia, but the Ovidia, according to the Radio Marine corporation, sent back word that her help was not needed, as the Endicott was much nearer.

The S. O. S. from the Ovidia told of water pouring through her seams and her pumps disabled.

The leaking freighter was reported making a mile an hour toward the oncoming rescue vessels.

The S. S. Thray and the S. S. Samaria also were proceeding to the assistance of Ovidia.

Fried Has Record.

Captain Fried has won international recognition twice for his courageous rescues at sea. When he commanded the President Roosevelt on January 26, 1926, he added to maritime heroism by rescuing the 25 men from the storm-swept British tramp freighter Antinoe.

For two days he stood by the sinking Antinoe and directed the transfer of the buffeted crew in an ocean studded with mountainous waves. The navy department awarded him the navy cross for this courageous feat.

Three years later, almost to the day, Captain Fried, then skipper of the America, again made a notable rescue, taking off 22 men from the ship-wrecked Florida in mid-Atlantic.

When he came into port he was honored again and presented with a medal and scroll by Mayor James J Walker of New York in a public reception.

FOG COMPELS WOMAN FLIER TO TURN BACK

these things today in an exclusive interview with International News Service just before taking off on a 1,400-mile hop from Pittsburgh to Havana in an effort to set a new speed record.

But, she made haste to add, aviation has provided her with a far greater boon.

And that was . . .?

"Emancipation from domestic drudgery!" she announced triumphantly.

Likes Flying.

"I like flying better than anything else in the world," she went on. "I hate housework and everything connected with it. I don't bend over the kitchen stove, and I won't.

"I'm awfully sorry," she added ingenuously, "that I can't pose for you with a fetching apron over my frock—I never did any cooking in my life."

Aviation as a career is open to any woman, Mrs. Keith-Miller said, provided the woman has the necessary physical qualities.

"We've proved pretty well we can fly," she asserted. "And we've shown the men that we seem to get places in spite of our sex."

This mere slip of a woman, boyish in her close-fitting flying togs grew earnest in her prediction that women soon would take a large part in the commercial development of aviation.

"After all, why not?" she queried. "Women realize that if they can drive a car they ought to have an airplane because it is faster, smoother, more luxurious transportation.

Learn to Fly.

"Women all over the world—in Australia as well as in America in England as well as on the continent—are learning to fly and fly well. It's only a matter of a year or two until the air will be busy with all these ladybirds."

Mrs. Miller climbed into her tiny Eaglerock Bullet plane and swung the door almost closed. Before waving a last goodbye she became piquantly humorous, shouting out above the roar of her motor:

"Don't remind me of any dangers—if I fall in with the sharks near the Florida Keys I have a nice collapsible life raft on which to get away from them."

STAR LORE

CONSPICUOUS AND INTERESTING STARS

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

There are 22 stars in the heavens of visual magnitude above 1.6. Of this number 17 are seen from northern latitudes. It is these 17 bright stars that make naked eye gazing at individual stars interesting to amateur astronomers. There are many stars of fainter visual magnitude visible to the unaided eye in northern latitudes, made interesting because of the constellations in which they appear, or because of conspicuous places they occupy: Polaris is our north star, but of second magnitude: Alcyone of the Pleiades is a third magnitude star: all the seven stars of the Big Dipper (in Ursa Major) are second magnitude: so is Shedir in constellation Cassiopeia.

table and that the executive committee appoint sub-committees in charge of finance, supplies, feeding, investigations, transportation, employment and publicity. These suggestions were embodied in a resolution which was adopted.

DeGraff Pearson then stated that all possible employment should be created as soon as possible. He advocated the immediate construction of the Lawrence Street bridge, and that the road to the Burton Power works should be built and that Rural Avenue could be graded and repaired at this time of year. He said the thing to do is to create as much employment as possible immediately.

Relates Bridge Project

Pearson recited how other citizens and he had conferred with county commissioners and city councilmen in an effort to have the Lawrence St. bridge built, which he said would provide immediate work and that the county had refused to proceed with the construction though they had formed an agreement with the city to have the work done.

Relative to Rev. Joshua's advocacy that the Croton viaduct should be built, it was explained to the clergyman that such construction could not possibly start for probably a year and that it would cost in the vicinity of half a million dollars.

John Higgins said that consumption is what is needed today and were a national scheme put through by which for a certain number of days products would be offered at a discount, consumption would be increased. He said that all possible employment should be created.

Relative to the work on streets and other proposed projects, some of the committee said they were in favor of 100 per cent hand labor, meaning that machinery should be "garaged" as this cut down the number of men.

John Bevan said that he believed the city might put through street projects during the winter time and H. L. Gordon said that the thing to do is to "feed the hungry." He said that Dr. Bissell's program was one that if needed would go far in helping conditions.

Suggestions for creating feasible employment which were put forth in a New Castle News editorial, Tuesday, were commented highly on by those at the session. It was believed that a practical basis for creating employment was suggested.

The committeemen were whole hearted in their opinion that if employment can be created it will go a long way toward aid here but the committee should lose no time in making arrangements to alleviate suffering if it does come this winter.

The committee has full power to act and agreed to meet next Monday night at city hall when it is anticipated that reports will show that concrete action has come out of the organization session.

During his opening talk the mayor stated that recently all salaried employes of the city had been requested to give a day's salary, each month, beginning December 3, to the committee. He said this would amount to about $600 a month.

Following the regular meeting the executive committee reconvened and after discussing Dr. Bissell's program, named chairman of the various committees, as follows: finance, Thomas Hartman: church feeding, Rev. C. J. Williamson: supplies, William Howe: investigations, Orville Potter: publicity, J. F. Rentz: food distribution, Dr. H. H. Rosenthal. Ways and Means, Dr. W. W. Bissell.

tain, if possible, the identity of the man.

How the man's body could have been strewn for such a distance along the track is a mystery. John J. Marco, the section gang foreman believes that he was either struck by a westbound passenger train or that he had been standing between the cars and had fallen between them and been pushed along by the wheels. It is unlikely that the engineer of the train knew anything about the accident, since he did not stop.

If the man belongs locally it is expected that friends will claim the body as soon as it is known.

Lieutenant Wright of the B. & O. railroad has been in touch with the authorities at the state police barracks, Butler, and Capt. Mock is sending a finger print expert over Wednesday in the hopes of identifying the victim by these means.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE IS EVENT OF MONDAY

Honoring the birthday of Harry Semple of Hubbard, Ohio, a group of New Castle folks motored to his home Monday evening in surprise fashion to help celebrate the occasion. The hours were pleasantly spent in 500, four tables being in play, with the lovely favors for honors being awarded to Mrs. Walter Barber and Joe Walker. At a late hour, a delicious repast, attractively arranged on small trays was served the guests by Mrs. Semple assisted by several of the ladies in attendance.

At the conclusion of serving the honor guest was presented with a handsome gift in behalf of those present, as a memento of the day.

Those in attendance from New Castle included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Singer, Mr. and Mrs. James Cypher, Mr. and Mrs. William Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walker and Mr. and Mrs. I Henderson, the latter couple who were from Bessemer.

King's Daughters Dine

An interesting event of Tuesday evening was the dinner meeting of the King's Daughters' Bible class of the First Methodist church when the charter members of the class had charge of the program.

A beautiful table greeted the members as they entered the dining room, beautiful flowers and Transksgiving suggestions being used in the appointments and covers were arranged for 22 members and one special guest.

Following a delicious menu the members adjourned to one of the parlors where an interesting program was given by Mrs. William Fielding, Mrs. Frank Fischer, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. J. H. Wirsing.

Mrs. S. M. Rearic gave a history of the Children's Aid Society of Lawrence county and the work they have been doing which made a highly interesting yet pathetic story as Mrs. Rearic told of some of the pitiful cases that had been met with.

Mrs. Allen Stuart of Westfield was a special guest.

Mrs. James Drake, teacher of the class, brought the meeting to a close with prayer and adjournment was made to meet December 16.

Attend Golden Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hartzell and daughter Aleen, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Hartzell and son Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hartzell of Hillcrest avenue attended the golden wedding celebration in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Winner of Perrysville, Tuesday.

KENSINGTON MEMBERS GATHER FOR LUNCHEON

Mrs. Joseph Round of Park avenue was a charming hostess Tuesday afternon when she entertained at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon members of the Tuesday Kensington. A full chicken menu with all the necessary side dishes was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Harris, Mrs. William McIver, Mrs. Lee Sappington and Mrs. J. Q. Roberts. She had one large table beautifully arranged with Thanksgiving decorations, and a group of side tables carried out in the same appointments centered with bowls of baby mums.

After the serving, the regular routine was carried out and a social hour enjoyed with kensington and chat.

The ladies had as special guests Mrs. William McIver, Mrs. Lee Sappington and Mrs. Luanna Book.

In two weeks Mrs. LeRoy Hughes of Euclid avenue will extend hospitality to the kensington when she will entertain with a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Suits Us Club

A festal air was added to the gathering of the Suits Us Club Tuesday evening by the beautiful floral decorations Mrs. Joseph Mann, Jr., had added to her home on the Ellwood road. Mums, large and small, in a variety of shades were prettily arranged about the rooms.

Three tables of 500 filled in the evening hours with prizes at the end of the game awarded Mrs. E. B. Ray, Mrs. Alex McConahy, Mrs. Mary Robinson and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, who was a special guest.

Mrs. Thomas Shaffer, Mrs. Vergil Pitzer, Mrs. Frank Kennedy were special guests.

Thanksgiving appointments were used when the hostess served a delectable repast on the small tables, to bring the evening to a close.

December 2 will marke the date of the next meeting.

Rigle Court Party.

Members and friends of Rigle court 9, Tribe of Ben Hur, enjoyed an evening of Cards Monday in their hall in the Clendenin building with ten tables being in play.

The euchre prizes were won by Mrs. Minnie Mayers, Mrs. Kate Stanley, Ralph Mayers and Hugh Shields; the 500 winners were Edna White, Mildred Vogan, Oliver Fleeger and George Fleeger.

At the conclusion of play the committee served an appetizing lunch.

QUOTA CLUB HEARS INTERESTING TALK

The regular meeting of the Quota Club members occurred Tuesday evening in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A. when they were served a sumptuous menu at 6 o'clock. After the menu had been served the program in charge of Miss Ora Snyder was given. Miss Snyder in well chosen words, introduced C. B. Randall who gave a very interesting talk on "Book Collecting" in the auditorium. He had several rare displays of books that added much to the interest of his talk. This was followed by a one act comedy skit given by Miss Betty Glover and H. C. Ward, pretaining to domestic life, that was quite amusing. Later, a golf tournament was enjoyed at a local miniature golf course. Kathryn Hite and Mary Ofterdinger were at the head of the teams, and they played until a late hour.

The next regular meeting will take place on this coming Tuesday evening, at their regular place.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON AT FIELD CLUB

Fall flowers in every shade and variety graced the luncheon table at the Field club Tuesday at 1:30 as the members of the Tuesday Bridge club sat down to a most delicious menu with Mrs. A. L. Moore and Mrs. Gordon Klein as hostesses.

Following luncheon the card tables came into use and bridge occupied the afternoon hours and at conclusion of play lovely prizes were awarded Mrs. W. R. Allen and Mrs E. W. Crawford as the holders of high score.

December 2 will mark the date of the next luncheon bridge, at which time Mrs. Adolph Green and Mrs J. Higgins will be hostesses.

CLUB MEMBERS HAVE REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. Florence Cummings of Ray street proved a delightful hostess when she received associates of the O. F. B. Club in her home Tuesday evening for their regular meeting. Music and chat whiled away the social hours, and toward the close of the evening the hostess served a tasty lunch. She was assisted by Mrs. Sara Wilson and Mrs. Rilla Carr.

In two weeks Mrs. Martha Holfelder of Walmo will be hostess to the club.

L. D. K. Meeting

The Loyal Daughters of the King missionary society of the Third United Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ruth Gibson, Adams street, for the regular monthly session.

Jane Kyle, president, was in charge of the meeting and Gladys Gray led the devotional period, with Mrs. Bertha McKissick in charge of the thank offering program. Mrs. Effie Smock gave an interesting reading on "Thank Offering".

Mrs. Lula Kocher gave a report of the Stephen Hill rally, which was highly interesting and the Mooney sisters, Jennie and Laura, gave a vocal duet. Mrs. Ruth Gibson sang a beautiful number.

The hours after the program were given over to packing a box to be sent to the southern mountaineers.

The meeting closed with a delicious lunch served by the hostess and Mrs. Bertha McKissick.

December 9 the society will meet with Mrs. Maude Zeigler, Thorpe street.

Birthday Honored

Mrs. George Shaney of East Washington street entertained in a pleasing manner, a group of guests in her home Tuesday in honor of her son, Joseph's birthday. Games and stunts were enjoyed as the pastimes, and prizes were awarded to Louis Mack, Don Flegger and Mary Louise Murphy. At a suitable hour, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Shaney assisted by Mrs. Mary Oberleitner, at a table nicely decorated for the occasion, where covers marked for 20 guests.

The honor guest received many nice gifts in memory of the day.

Appointments By President Hoover Will Be Fought

Hoover's Appointments To Federal Tariff And Power Commissions Face Test

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Hoover's appointments to the new U. S. Tariff and Federal Power Commissions, particularly the naming of Henry P. Fletcher of Penna., as chairman of the Tariff Commission, face a rigid inquiry in the senate, before any can be confirmed it was learned today.

The Insurgent Republican group probably will concentrate on Fletcher, because of his long association with former Senator Joseph R Grundy, (R) of Penna. They look upon his appointment as a concession to Grundy, despite the fact that the president and new tariff chairman have been personal friends for many years and were associated in Belgium in the war days.

The fight against the President's appointees to the Power Commission, if any is made, will be conducted by Senator Norris (R) of Neb leading exponent of government operation of Fezerallybi owned utilities.

When a Child is FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

CHRISTMAS BUYING

ANOTHER holiday season is fast approaching.

With it comes peculiar angles that have not been encountered by the people of New Castle and Lawrence county for some years past.

Certain it is that there is want and charity need in somewhat larger proportion than for some years.

But, on the other hand, there are many that are employed, and are able to carry on through the holidays in normal fashion.

It should be their aim to do so!

Wants of the needy must be looked after, and will be.

But the surest way to eliminate the period of depression that the nation is now passing through is for the return to normal buying on the part of the great masses of the people, here and elsewhere.

Money must be kept in circulation by those who have it.

Hoarding this Christmas time by those who are not obliged to hoard, is the surest method of continuing the period of depression.

Do your Christmas shopping early, and if in a position to do so, keep up normal Christmas buying this season!

STRANGE ECONOMICS

European economists advance a plan to prevent a world business crisis. The United States, in their opinion, ought to buy more European goods so Europe can buy more American goods. This would be accomplished by lowering our tariff and increasing our budget item for imported goods. In other words, the trade policy of the United States should be less nationalistic, if the world is to be saved.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the countries to Europe are raising tariff barriers against foreign-made goods and urging their people to buy only domestic goods. In other words, the countries of Europe appear to be convinced that their hope for the future lies in a more nationalistic trade policy.

So far as the United States is concerned, it would seem to be the opinion of European economists that the greatest good for world credit lies in encouraging Americans to buy in Europe and forbidding them to sell there except after overcoming the obstacle of high duties. This may be sound economies, but European economists will have considerable difficulty convincing Americans that it is so.

HEALTH OF PRESIDENT HOOVER

There will be general gratification over the announcement of Doctor Boone, the white house physician, that President Hoover is in better condition physically than he was two years ago after he had completed his strenuous presidential compaign. He weighs fifteen pounds less, and by a system of exercise has been able to stand the rigors of his trying office in spite of the absence of any extended vacations. His brief week-end trips have been beneficial, and it seems to be agreed that he will be fully able to meet the added demands upon him that will come with the assembling of congress.

But, like most of his predecessors, Mr. Hoover has unquestionably felt the strain of the presidency. No conscientious man can take that job lightly. In our own times the duties of the office have increased enormously, and it involves vastly more than the routine signing of official documents and commissions. At the time of the death of President Harding there was a great deal of talk about lightening the duties of the chief magistrate of the nation. There was some vague notion of designing a sort of assistant president to take over some of the slavish details; but nothing came of it for the simple reason that no one but the president can be president. There were other suggestions, such as the abolition of public receptions and an appeal to the public to do all that was possible to lighten the task of the occupant of the white house. Gradually these problems have been partially solved without any revolutionary changes in the procedure of handling the public business.

It is generally agreed that the lives of Presidents Wilson and Harding were shortened by worry. That, as everybody knows, is more deadly than any amount of work. The best any individual can do asserts the Philadelphia Inquirer is not wilfully to add to the heavy burdens of the ruler of the nation.

FEWER DIE

It was Oscar Wilde who once said "the only way to get rid of temptation is to yield to it." Its fault as a paradox is that long before it ever was put into words it was believed by a majority of people.

For that reason the following is more surprising: the best way to stave off death is to be sick. That, however, is from another wild—the abyss of nature. Of course, one must remember that all epigrams, and even nature's, are tricks and half-truths.

This latter paradox is suggested by government statistics showing that the diseases which cause the greatest amount of sickness rank relatively low as causes of death. Thus respiratory disorders are responsible for 60 per cent of the illness in the typical city, but only 20 per cent of the deaths. On the other hand, diseases of the heart and blood vessels cause only two per cent of the illness, but 24 per cent of the deaths.

Traffic accidents, industrial accidents and the many other hazards the person in full health and vigor encounters in the course of a day lend force to the argument that the sick bed with its protecting barriers of expert medical and nursing care is a relatively safe place to be. Being sick today is a less serious thing than it was when medicine and surgery were in the experimental stage and the hospital death rate fluctuated between 60 and 90 per cent of all patients.

YOU MUST ANSWER THE DOORBELL!

Even if you're busy you must answer the doorbell.

It may be nobody you care to see, but you must answer it just the same. It may be the brush man, or a magazine solicitor. It may be an old fellow selling dried apricots or another old man wondering if you'll let him cut the grass. Or a bill collector. Or a policeman. Or a neighbor. Or a friend you haven't seen for years. It may be joy . . . embarrassment . . . irritation . . . an opportunity . . . any of these things. You must meet it!

When the doorbell rings you must go to open the door—to shut it again as soon as possible or to swing it wide and welcome the one who rang the bell.

Some people can go right on with whatever they're doing when the front doorbell rings—or disconnect the bell so it doesn't ring at all. Or they can refuse to answer the telephone. They can let it ring and ring and ring and they do nothing about it. How wonderful to have such a strong will! How odd to have such little curiosity! . . . We don't do that! We answer the doorbell, we rush to the telephone. A bore may be at the door, the call may be just a wrong number, not for us. But we MUST answer it. We're ordinary folks and we can't help it!

We must answer doorbells, we must answer Life. We cannot sit in a little room and wait for Life to break the door down. We can not hide away . . . or dream . . . or sulk . . . or suffer. We must open the door and meet Life! If we do not open the door, we may never know what we've missed, but we'll regret it all our life. Some day we'll say to ourselves, "I should have gone to the door. I should have opened it to Life. What a fool I was that day, when I didn't take a chance, when I thought other things were more important. I'll never do THAT again, I'll never be so foolish!"

You rage at life because so much of it is trivial and impudent, and time-wasting and unimportant, but you must meet it when it calls . . . because you never can know . . . you never can tell . . . and you may be sorry if you don't . . . and you may say to yourself, too late, "I should have lived, and I didn't!"

We live by opening doors to Life.

TALE OF A BROOCH

A little woman found a brooch upon the street one day.
It looked to her like jewelry, the 10 cent stores display.
She took it home to pin her waist while out to wash she went,
And day by day that trinket gleamed as o'er the tub she bent;
But no one stopped to notice it. No mistress at the door
Would cast a second glance at things the washerwoman wore.

"It is a pretty brooch" she thought. "I'll wear it while I may.
Then give it to my daughter on her graduation day.
It's rather sad to look at now. I've lost a pearl or two.
But I can pay a jeweler to make it good as new."
So when the happy time arrived she asked a man the cost
Of two small pearls which would replace the ones that she had lost.

The jeweler the trinket took and gravely looked it o'er
Said he: "Wait just a moment please. I fear 'twill cost you more Than you expect. These pearls are rare. She trembled at his speech
"For gems like this we'll have to charge two thousand dollars each
This is a most expensive brooch, exquisite, charming, quaint!"
The washerwoman heard no more. She'd fallen in a faint.

To find that brooch police had searched the city up and down.
And all the time it glistened on a woman's gingham gown.
And all the time it glistened as she toiled some floor to scrub
Or shed its ray of lovliness about the steaming tub.
But like this washerwoman countless folks year in, year out,
Perhaps are blessed with riches they have never learned about.

ABAS BUSINESS STREET PARKING

It will not be a very great while until the parking of cars in the crowded business streets of great cities will cease. Then will appear the great garages. They have begun to arise already for the largest garage in the world was recently opened in Boston, Massachusettes.

This automobile carvansary has every modern convenience that autoists could wish. The floor space is more than ten acres, providing space for more than 2,000 cars at a time.

It has eight floors, and the main object is to provide accommodations for people who wish to do shopping in the city.

Free buses leave the garage every eight minutes to take shoppers to the stores. Cars are handled by means of interfloor highways. An ingenious lighting system on each floor tells what stalls are available.

A clubroom for chauffeurs is also a feature of the building.

Many Observers Forecast 1932 Fight Over Prohibition

Wet Gains In Recent Election Considered As Factors In Political Developments Likely To Precede Next Presidential Campaign

While there is much skepticism as to the possibility of making any substantial change in the dry laws, comment throughout the nation emphasizes the wet gains shown in the recent election. These are declared to offer no prospect of modification in the near future but it is widely believed that they indicate a warm battle in the 1932 campaign, with prohibition as the chief or one of the chief issues. Stress is laid upon referendums which were favorable to the wets. Changes in methods of enforcement are suggested.

Definite course of procedure for the average citizen is suggested by the ASHEVILLE TIMES, with the statement: "If, two years from now, the movement against Prohibition has scored further success, it will behoove the non-extremists in both the Dry and Wet camps to come together to work out some reasonable program for meeting a very practical fact of social, political and economic importance in the life of the nation. The extremists of neither side should be allowed the final say on what shall be the nation's policy in controlling liquors."

Pointing out that "the psychological advantage growing out of the elections is strongly with the wets," the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR recognizes that "thirteen obdurate States can block a change in the 18th Amendment forever," and that "the South is solidly for prohibition," providing a "great nucleus of opposition to repeal."

"The election results," in the opinion of the KANSAS CITY STAR, "demonstrate clearly one thing—that there will be increasing pressure for a popular test of prohibition and that this may become one of the chief issues of the next national campaign. It is on that ground that the question demands, and will continue to demand, serious consideration." The DES MOINES TRIBUNE declares that "it is plain the prohibition issue is going to figure more and more in the next election, if it is not settled before then. It is evident," continues that paper, "that it is to the interest of the country that it be settled. Economic and political matters of real importance are delayed and side-tracked while it occupies the public mind. Political realism requires the elimination of the question from politics."

"The most notable victory the wets have yet won" is seen by the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER in the election, referring particularly to verdicts in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Illinois, and adding: "Modificationists answered decisively the much-debated question of whether they would be wet or dry in case their own views could not prevail. They voted wet." "Everywhere, except in the South, the trend of the Senatorial elections was toward repeal. If it continues so, what will be the situation in 1932?"

That the issue will be paramount in 1932 is also the opinion of the WILMINGTON DELMARVIA STAR, the CHARLOTTE NEWS and the OSHKOSH NORTHWESTERN. The NEW YORK TIMES offers the summary of the recent results, with emphasis upon Democratic success and wet gains in various Eastern States: "As nothing succeeds like success, the Democrats of the Mid-Western, Mountain and Pacific States, many of them already sick of prohibition, may be expected to go with the stream. There remains the South, clinging less fondly than once to its old idol and stimulated by the prospect or mirage of victory."

"Millions of voters showed their opposition to the 18th Amendment," records the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, while the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, looking forward to the coming session of Congress, states that "the brewers are said to be getting their plants in condition to resume business," and adds: "What happened on election day was only a sprinkle; the real wetting is just ahead." The ST LOUIS POST-DISPATCH avers that "the prohibitionists, who have imperilled the very structure of the government, took a terrible drubbing." The NEW YORK WORLD holds that "the Anti-Saloon League has ceased to be a political influence of any real importance in New York."

"The majority of the country, and especially the majority in the erstwhile Republican States, is opposed to prohibition," declares the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, with the conclusion: "National prohibition has been tried and it has been found unsatisfactory. Able leadership would recognize the fact and move at once in the direction of repeal of the amendment. Meanwhile, it would lose no time in seeking to modify the Volstead act and the Jones act. It would not let the initiative in this matter slip into the hands of the opposition."

Change in methods of enforcement is suggested as most feasible by the COLUMBUS OHIO STATE JOURNAL and the OGDEN STANDARD-EXAMINER, while the ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS, advocating the extension of the referendum idea, suggests that "it would be helpful for Congress to know where the various commonwealths of the nation stand." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS hints: "It is agreed that the drys are still in control of Congress, and therefore the question is how long the drys can retain their majority intact, in view of the well-known tendency of the political drys to shift when they see how the wets are gaining." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS advises that "political thinkers ought to think aloud to the extent of voicing their deliberate convictions on the issue which now has broken its bonds and leaped into the middle of the political arena." The PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE recognizes "a definite and ever-widening trend." The LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT believes that "it is plain that the election has aggravated a condition which already was disturbing enough."

The election impresses the SAN BERNARD SUN as making the Democratic party "the party of prohibition repeal," while the attitude of Republican leadership is declared

If you have a stiff backbone as big and strong in character as you would have others believe ask some good friend to enumerate your faults, frankly.

Also be prepared for a shock.

About the only time you hear the truth of yourself is when someone is angry with you.

Then, of course, your faults are magnified and humanly, you don't give credence to the allegations made against you.

But watch out for what you are told by the person who is angry.

Even allowing for exaggeration some big truths are coming out.

If you can persuade a friend to tell you wherein you fail without disturbing the mutual friendship, you may gain some facts that will make you think.

Like all others you have disagreeable traits or mannerisms which you unthinkingly exhibit.

Sometimes caused by embarrassment, at other times because you feel the security of your position, you are not careful what you do, and you are not so pleasing to your friends.

Most folks want to please their associates and would be glad to know how to avoid the actions that show them in a poor light.

Bible Thought For Today

THE GREAT RACE—Seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the same, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.—Heb. 12:1.

Federation Has Meeting

Club Ladies Hear Discussion Of "Citizenship" And Other Activities

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT TUESDAY SESSION

An interesting session of the Lawrence County Federation of Womens Clubs was held Tuesday afternoon, when they gathered for their open meeting in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. having a splendid number in attendance. In addition to local members there were a number of out of town guests present for the meeting.

With Mrs. S. M. Matheny, their president, presiding, the session was opened.

Mrs. Albert Tresses gave a report on the College Club work. Mrs. W. W. Sniff gave an account on the Health Committee activities, and stated that plans were formulating for ways of caring for undernourished school children in our local schools.

Mrs. Charles Greer was called upon and gave an interesting report on the Educational Committee. She told of the members interviewing parents who were interested in the Parent Teachers Association, who heartily endorsed that this organization and its work be carried on to further lengths. She included in her talk, that plans are being furthered to create higher ideals for school children.

Mrs. Greer then, in a few well chosen wards, introduced Mrs. I. M. Henley who had charge of the program, and turned the meeting over to her.

Mrs. Steven Byers of Washington, Pa., State Chairman of the American Citizenship, was introduced as the first speaker. Mrs. Byers who is the possessor of a pleasing personality, told of the Biennial meeting at Denver, and the many facts touched upon and discussed at that time. Her talk centered around, "Citizenship. She emphasized that it was necessary for each individual to read the newspaper daily to be intelligent of what is happening. She urged more effective citizenship among school children, and told of the classes conducted for the foreign born to enable them to live to better advantage.

Mrs. R. A. Haddock of Pittsburgh, chairman of District Citizenship was the next speaker introduced by Mrs. Henley. Her talk was a follow-up of Mrs. Byers, and she very impressively told of the Campaign question, and urged that the facts be known about both sides, before making any final decision. She also commented and praised highly the general interest shown in New Castle of such progressive and beneficial work as the Federation is doing, and promises if such excellent work continues, they will be ampley rewarded. She spoke fluently on good citizenship and law observance; that the high priviledge the women to-day have, they must stand back of the eighteenth amendment with all their strength. She concluded with the urging of good speakers be brought to this vicinity, and encourages the educating of foreign mothers.

Miss McBurney, District Chairman of County Libraries told of her work and experiences and stressed that the rural children be given the same advantages as the city children by being allowed plenty of books to read. She is promoting county library extension work, and hopes to have the co-operation of everyone.

Miss Moore, Executive of International Institute told how the foreign folks are cared for from the time they reach Ellis Island until they are at their destination; she also spoke on National and International organizations, and of the splendid work being accomplished. She urged that the foreign born, mothers especially, be encouraged to become educated, thus making a better guide for the little ones. She went into detail of the institutions caring for the blind, insane, and unfortunate ones.

Talks were made by a group of Senior High School students. "Brief Study of the Constitution" given by Walter Hoskins; "Citizenship" by Miss Agnes Montgomery; "How Political Gangs Work" by Charles Kelly, all of whom performed in a most excellent manner. Miss Josephine Allen also a High School student discussed "What Pennsylvania is doing for its Foreign Born" that was exceptionally well given. She told of the handicaps and how to remedy such.

Miss Anna Aiken, who is instructress in Health activities, told of her experiences during the ten years she has served in this work. She gave numerous examples and of the progress made by the children, and told how steps are taken to educate the foreign born.

Miss Katherine McMillin gave a piano solo that was well received. Also another musical number that proved highly entertaining was that given by Mrs. Nat Cowen who sang "Pale Moon" and "Wake Up" in her usual pleasing manner. She was accompanied by Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, a talented pianist.

The program was brought to a close with the awarding of the Federation Banner to the College Club. It was received by Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad, and was given by Mrs. Roy Long of the Sorosis Club.

After the closing feature, the ladies adjourned, and went into the front parlor of the Y. W. C. A. where tea was served. A table covered with a beautiful lace cloth centered with a bowl of baby mums guarded by four tall lighted yellow tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Charles Greer and Mrs. S. M. Matheny were the tea pourers, and those serving included Mrs. Richard Steen, Mrs. Arthur White, Mrs. Thomas Lindsey, Mrs. C. N. Lockhart, Mrs. Jacob Rentz and Mrs. William Cosel.

Mrs. Campbell of the New Bedford Garden Club and Mrs. Kiven, president of the Womans Club of Wampum were among the guests present for the occasion.

In the morning at 11 o'clock the Executive Board convened in the Y. W. C. A. Routine business was then in progress. A report from the Southwestern Federation meeting held in Pittsburgh was given and the High School fund endorsed. Mrs. W. L. Campbell made a plea for extra funds to be used in the caring for undernourished school children in our local schools. Mrs. S. D. Pearson gave an account of "Our Road of Remembrance" which is along the Perry Highway. There are 249 American Elms planted along this Highway, covering a distance of two and six-tenths miles. Mrs. A. Gonick followed with a brief talk regarding the buying of articles in the Pittsburgh shop made by the blind. Mrs. R. A. Haddock gave a splendid address as the closing feature of the Executive Board meeting, when they adjourned for lunch.

uncertain. Maintaining that "the country needs the principle of prohibition," that paper asserts: "The cause of prohibition has lost ground during the past year. Failure of inability of law enforcement agencies to stop the liquor traffic plus decreased ability in the dry leadership are responsible. It cannot be that there has ever been an honest effort to enforce prohibition. Too much was taken for granted when the eighteeenth amendment was adopted. Too many people thought that ended the liquor traffic. It was tragic that the campaign of temperance education was dropped."

"In the general upset that has reached the proportions of a Democratic landslide, prohibition can be said to have been a minor factor," according to the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM. The SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS argues that, as to referendum results in the election, "Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama could offset the votes of those three States if the question ever should get to the nation on a practical basis." The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN is convinced that "there is nothing in what has happened to give any basis for anticipations of any official countenance to immediate relaxation of the present law, the Administration being committed to a thorough trial of the possibilities of effective enforcement under the new system."

"The results are nothing to get excited about," advises the TERRE HAUTE STAR, while the WHEELING INTELLIGENCER sees in renewed agitation "sound and fury, meaning nothing." The JANESVILLE GAZETTE warns: "When we attempt to settle a question with these controversial ramifications and so polyangled in views, by a union of sentiment in a political party of parties in convention, we immediately get chaos." The LYNCHBURG ADVANCE says: "The wets have a long road to trudge before they acquire sufficient strength to do away with the 18th Amendment."

"If it is going to be a political matter, then there should be a political party devoted to it, leaving the two major parties to function normally on the more essential issues of the nation," declares the SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) UNION. The CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER also asks: "Will there be a third party, offering a haven for the wets or dries of both the old parties?" In such a situation, the Plain Dealer predicts a repetition of 1912. The NEW YORK EVENING POST, noting discord in Republican ranks, thinks "the party may have to fight out the issue as the Democrats did in 1928."

Work Progresses At Blair Plant

Rebuilding Work Goes Ahead At Strip Steel Plant Here

A shipment of structural steel for the building of a plant to replace the old mill building destroyed by fire October 1 is being awaited by the Blair Strip Steel Company, Butler avenue extension.

A permit for the construction work of a brick and steel building to cost about $21,000 was granted by the city to the contractor Albert W. Bauman.

Meanwhile workment are completing the collection of plant equipment. Six huge wooden pickling vats in which fine steel is tempered were in the process of reconstruction at the plant Tuesday. The vats had been damaged by the fire.

Heavy mill machinery is being placed on the area that will become the floor of the new building. According to information gathered at the scene of operations it was learned that the machinery was salvaged from the fire, overhauled, repaired and repainted.

Workmen for the contractor are also engaged on the reconstruction of the machine shop adjoining the new plant built a year ago and which suffered little in the steel plant fire.

George D. Blair, Jr., the president of the company was out of town.

Mellon Engineer Delivers Address

Approximately 60 engineers, members of the Engineers society of New Castle, met Monday night at the Penn-Ohio building and listened to an interesting address by R. F. Ferguson, test engineer of the Mellon institute in charge of the Refractories Institute Fellowship. He spoke on "Refractories as an engineering material." According to L. M. Shields, secretary, the next meeting will be December 8.

Junior High Misses Are Showing Liking For Drums

A marked and strange change has come over the musically inclined young Misses of Benjamin Franklin junior high school. Since the beginning of this year's term Miss Eva Coulter, head of the instrumental department, has noticed the change and in the past several weeks it has been more pronounced.

Heretofore the Junior high school girls have chosen for their instruments violins, French horn or base viol, etc.

But now it is drums! Scores of girls have come to Miss Coulter in the past several weeks and asked if there wasn't a drum around somewhere that they could play. Wouldn't some other instrument do? No, rather have a drum. Would like to march in band too.

Saxophones are getting more and more popular with the girls. They like saxophones and a number are taking lessons on this instrument. The same goes for the harp and zylophone.

Unusual is the fact that the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band includes such a large number of girls. Whether this explains the demand for durms, is not known. It has been suggested that the girls are keen on the band uniforms. What ever the solution, this much is known—the girls know how to play their band instruments very well and they do their share in making the band the splendid one it is.

INDIGESTION

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT THE REAL CAUSE OF DIGESTIVE DISTRESS

Why Pepto-Bismol Brings Such Safe, Speedy Relief

Medical science today agrees that indigestion, gas, heartburn, sourness and other forms of after-eating discomfort are often caused by foods fermenting in the stomach. This process of fermentation forms harmful acids. These acids lead to distress. Yet in resorting to extreme correctives to secure relief, people all too often make matters worse, authorities say.

For it is a mistaken idea that all stomach acids are harmful. They aren't. The digestive fluids are normally acid. They must be acid to do their work. If this vital acidity is destroyed, digestion stops completely. The result—more suffering.

Pepto-Bismol is advised by physicians for upset stomach because it halts food fermentation and the formation of harmful acids—without destroying the vital acids needed for digestion. Moreover, Pepto-Bismol coats the irritated lining of the stomach and intestines with a bland, smooth film and helps nature restore normalcy.

The next time your stomach acts up, take Pepto-Bismol. You'll find it amazingly effective. Relief is quick—and gentle. Pepto-Bismol causes no violent internal reaction or distressing hiccoughs as soda compounds often do.

Pepto-Bismol has a pleasant taste, too. Even children like its agreeable flavor. It is perfectly safe. Doctors have prescribed it for over 25 years. Remember the name—Pepto-Bismol. In the 3-cornered bottle at your druggist's—only 50c. Get a bottle today and enjoy serene comfort after every meal. The Norwich Pharmacal Company, Norwich, N. Y., makers of Unguentine.

Headless Body Of Man Found

Believe Man Suicide, Skull Found Five Miles Away From Body

STRANGE CASE BEING PROBED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19. — The headless and decomposed body of a man found on Boquet Hill, East Deer township, last night, was believed today to be that of a suicide and not the victim of a gang fued, police said.

Deputy Corner Stanley Guzenski, who examined the body prior to its removal to the morgue, said he was convinced the man ended his life by hanging. Guzenski said he based his belief on the clothesline fastened around the neck of the victim.

The body was found by two hunters. It was in a pecular position with a tree resting against the skeleton form.

Pointing out that a landslide had recently occurred in the vicinity, Guzenski said he felt confident that the victim had hanged himself and that in the landslide the tree had collapsed, breaking the rope and dislodging the skull which had rolled down the hillside.

Physicians said the victim had been dead about two years. A skull was found by two small boys about five miles from where the body was brought to light. It will be impossible, deputy coroners said, to determine with exactitude whether the skull belongs to the body.

Neighborhood Clubs Active On Tuesday

Neshannock Rangers, Minutemen Hold Meetings; New Members Admitted

Oxenham's late book, "The Hidden Years" was discussed at a meeting of the Neshannock rangers in the home of Jack Allison, 444 Neshannock avenue, Tuesday evening. The meeting was opened by devotions in charge of Bud Perdue, William and Jack Allison. The book was next discussed by Donald Williams, leader. The title of the chapter under discussion was "The Beginning of Friendship," a topic that proved interesting and instructive.

During the business meeting the club banner, songs and yells were discussed and planned. The basketball team was named. Checker, Ping Pong and billiard teams were selected to oppose other neighborhood clubs at the Y. M. C. A. on November 26.

The following new members were admitted to membership: Dale Gibson, Kenneth Nelson, Jack Travers. There are four more vacancies in the club.

Minute Men

The early years of the life of Christ formed the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Minute Men of North Hill, held in the home of Mrs. Earnest Stitzinger of Winter avenue. The meeting was opened with devotions. Carl Mitchell led the discussion. The club emblem was planned at the meeting and was a real work of art when all details had been completed. Suggestions were made by Ross Bridenbaugh, Robert Miner, James Foster, Earnest Stitzinger and Carl Mitchell. The design is in gray and gold, symbolizing the plan of preparedness at a minute's warning.

Mrs. Stitzinger served a delightful lunch to the members.

Think Hunters Get Too Much Blame For Fires

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19—"Do hunters get more than their share of the blame for the forest fires which accompany each hunting season?"

That is a question to which the State Game Commission is endeavoring to find an answer. So far during the present season the reports of forest fires as compiled by the Department of Forests and Waters lead officials to believe that other causes rather than careless hunters are back of the annual fall fire season.

The small number of fires so far reported may be due largely to careful obedience of the Governor's proclamation which prohibited smoking in or near the woods. Officials realize, however, that without the cooperation of the sportsmen themselves the anti-smoking ban is difficult to enforce.

Although the first day of hunting season was marked by high winds in most sections of the State the dry conditions which they produce resulted in only two fires. On the next day, Sunday, five fires were reported. Officials feel certain that Sunday hikers and automobilists are to blame for all of them.

Since that time a daily check of forest fires reports show eighteen as the highest. That total, however, is no higher than that for days prior to the opening of the small game season.

Game Commission officials long have felt that the real sportsman is as careful with fire in the woods as he is with his gun. A sportsman always handles a gun as if it were loaded and shoots only when he is certain that he sees legal game. He is, game officials say, just as careful with fire. Only those who do not appreciate the value of the forests to wild life are blamed with the fall fires.

It is for that small proportion of hunters that game protectors and the entire personnel of the Department of Forests and Waters have been instructed to be on guard. Because of the uncertainty of heavy rainfall the Governor's proclamation against smoking covered the entire hunting season. It is the intention of Commission officials to enforce it rapidly as long as the season lasts.

Water Cure Is Valuable Says Doctor

Treatment Discovered By An Austrian Still Used

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The short cold shower is not the only method of treatment you can carry out with water.

When I explain to people the virtues of the Priessnitz bandage or compress, they usually turn away in doubt. They do not believe so simple a thing can do as much as I claim for it. Yet its action in gall-bladder inflammation, abdominal pain generally, inflammation of the chest, such as bronchitis or even pneumonia, is almost as good as the use of a strong medicinal sedative.

About 1829 an Austrian farmer named Vincenz Priessnitz began to acquire an enormous reputation for his treatment of diseases by water. He was not educated in medical lore at all. The story goes that he had observed the good effects of water treatments on animals, and when he was injured by the kick of a horse decided to try the effects on himself. Several of his ribs had been broken and his doctor had said that they would never be cured, so as to be fit for work. Naturally not pleased with this prognostication, and possessing great firmness of mind, young Priessnitz replaced his ribs by leaning with all his might against a table and at the same time holding his breath so as to swell out the chest. Then he applied water to the sore spots and in ten days was able to get out and about.

This cure became famous and neighbors began to consult him for treatment. Then visitors, even the rich and great. Soon the little town of Grafenberg where he lived was the center of a steady influx of invalids. Priessnitz was compelled to bear the jealousy and active enmity of the medical profession. They said that the cures were effected by sponges soaked in strong medicines. They could not believe that plain water was so powerful.

Priessnitz was compelled to go before a tribunal of the medical authorities in Vienna. There the sponges he used were torn apart and proved to contain no drugs. A miller who had had the gout testified and was asked who relieved him, the doctors or Priessnitz. He replied, "Both, the doctors relieved me of my money and Priessnitz of the gout."

His most famous treatment was the Priessnitz compress, which is still used by wise ones in medicine.

Its application is simplicity itself. Suppose you have a pain from an old chronic gallbladder affliction. Take a double piece of linen—an orlinary linen hand towel—and wring it out of cold water. Lay it over the sore place at bedtime. A larger, thicker piece of cloth—a bath towel—is brought around abdomen over it— like a binder—and pinned there to hold it in place.

The relief often obtained is out of all proportion to the case of application. People have told me that it was as good as a dose of morphine. For the discomfort of ulcer of the stomach, pleurisy and intercostal neuralgia it is equally valuable. Similar application over sprained ankles, sore knees, etc., can be made.

Also a soft job turns away wrath.

"It's a General Electric!"

The Refrigerator with the money-saving Monitor Top—What a glorious gift for a woman to receive—and how very easy now for a man to give.

The General Electric Company has made it easy for you to make this Christmas the merriest of all. You can give her a General Electric Refrigerator so easily that your pocketbook will scarcely feel it. With our easy time payment plan, a few dollars in cash—a very few dollars—will deliver one on Christmas Eve, so that the ice cubes will be frozen when she looks in the trays in the morning.

Three hundred and sixty-five days a year this glistening white refrigerator will ease the burden of her daily tasks—simplifying her marketing problems.

So utterly dependable is the mechanism of the Monitor Top, that the cost of operation is but a few cents a day.

A gift of beauty, of luxury, of convenience, usefulness, economy—what a glorious gift for a woman to receive! What an ideal gift for you to select as an expression of true regard! You may purchase on easy time payments.

Prosecute 91 Food Dealers

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19—Ninety-one dealers in food products were prosecuted in Pennsylvania during October according to a report made by Dr. James W. Kellog, director of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry, to Secretary of Agriculture C. G. Jordan.

These prosecutions include ten under the general food law involving bakery products artificially colored, adulterated catsup and decomposed pears and potatoes. There were two unlawful sales of adulterated butter; eight violations of the beverage law, thirty six violations of the fresh egg law where stale eggs were sold as fresh eggs, four violations of the cold storage law, three of adulterated fresh meats, three deficient ice creams, one unlawful sale of milk for drinking purposes, one violation each of the oleomargarine and vinegar laws, and seventeen violations of the milk and cream law, involving the sale of deficient and watered milk.

The ninety one prosecutions during October compare with eighty-five during the previous month and 131 during October 1929.

"I like it!" said PHILIP

● one of the Gentily triplets, age 2 years 3 months

● More proof that children take cod-liver oil willingly—this emulsified way

RECENTLY, a Scott's Emulsion reporter called on Mrs. A. Gentily, 11 Wheeler St., Montclair, N. J., mother of lovely triplets, one of whom is pictured here.

"Yes," Mrs. Gentily told us brightly, "I certainly do know how hard it is to make children take cod-liver oil. And I'll be glad to have my triplets try Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil"... Each youngster took a spoonful. "It's good," said Philip. "I like it," said Frances. "Nice," said Ann.

Pleasanter to take—but that isn't all

Pale, thin, run-down children—they need cod-liver oil. Give it to them the pleasantest way—give them Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion hasn't that strong "fishy" taste. It doesn't upset even delicate stomachs. It brings you purest, Norwegian cod-liver oil in its pleasantest form—a perfect emulsion. Easier to take—easier to digest.

Scott's Emulsion is rich in vitamin A, the disease-resisting vitamin. It is rich in vitamin D, the sunshine, rickets-preventing vitamin. It also contains vital mineral elements that aid in forming sound bones and teeth. This gives Scott's Emulsion a special advantage for growing children, infants, nursing and expectant mothers. Get some to-day.

Squirrels At Court House Teach Thrift

When it comes to laying up something for the proverbial rainy day, many humans would find it to their advantage to spend a day on the court house lawn, watching the squirrels getting ready for winter. Squirrels instinctively know that the winter is coming on and that, unless they prepare for it, their cupboards will be bare at a time when the cold north winds are whispering through the trees and ice and snow cover the ground.

The thrift instinct of the squirrel was well illustrated this morning when County Commissioner's Clerk, William A. Eakin, raised a window of his office and called to a large fox squirrel that was playing about the lawn. As soon as the squirrel heard his voice it scampered over the court house and jumped up on the window sill.

Mr. Eakin had a handful of peanuts in his hand. The squirrel took one of them, jumped down off the window sill, and proceeded to bury it on the lawn. The nuts were laid on the window sill and in a few minutes the squirrel was back for another, the operation being kept up until all the nuts had been buried. Nearly every day nuts are laid out by Eakin and other attaches of the court house. As soon as the squirrels eat what they want they bury the remainder.

One of the puzzling features in connection with the burying of the nuts is the widely different places where they are deposited. While some are buried on the court house lawn, others are taken across the street, and buried on residence lawns. Some are taken as high as one hundred yards away. Why they are not all buried on the lawn is known only to the squirrels.

The nuts are generally placed about an inch under the ground. The squirrels seem to find them again by the sense of smell. Many wonder whether they will be able to find all of the nuts, buried in so widely different places. The real fact is that the court house squirrels do not need to bury nuts, as they are supplied with plenty to eat the year round. But they are taking no chances, and bury all that they do not eat.

THE LOW PRICE HABIT

(A customer wrote this ad)

"I began shopping at an A&P store reluctantly. We don't need to be careful about expenditures, and I am a little fussy. It didn't seem to me likely that I could get what I want where the crowds go.

"Your coffee caught me. I came on your Eight O'clock by accident. It suited me better than any brand I had tried, in spite of its low price.

"Going to your store for my coffee, I began to notice other things. I tried a few and found them good, though cheap. Gradually I extended my purchases until now I get all my food from A&P.

"I'd still rather pay by check at the end of the month. But I am now used to cash payments, and saving money while getting the very best gives me what my children call a real kick. I thought you might like to know this."

Levine Pleading For His Release

Charles A. Levine Is Not Enjoying His Imprisonment As Counterfeiter

"WAS ALL MISTAKE," AMERICAN SAYS

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—Application for release on bail will probably be made today by attorneys on behalf of Charles A. Levine, Atlantic ocean flier arrested by police on suspicion of planning to counterfeit French coins.

The American backer and participant of Clarence D. Chamberlin's dash to Germany in the veteran monoplane Columbia insisted at a police hearing yesterday that it was "all a mistake" and a predicament due to an ill-advised advertising scheme, but authorities refused to accept his explanations and remanded him to Rossauerlaende prison while investigating further.

Haggard and wan after spending the past 48 hours in a cell, Levine pleaded in vain for immediate release. The police continued to contend that he sought to obtain the dies for the manufacture of French coins of fifty centimes and one and two francs.

A member of the French surete was ordered to Vienna to investigate.

Vienna authorities decided, after the first hearing, to turn Levine over to the public prosecutor, who may either prosecute or dismiss the case. The head of the Vienna criminal police said the case would probably be transferred to the criminal section of the general sessions court.

COUGH ALL NIGHT

Droop All Day

Nothing wears you out like a night of coughing. You rise in the morning a veritable wreck, bleer-eyed, limp and wobbly, totally unfit for the day's work. Coughing may be due to several things—cold, catarrhal condition of the throat, dust irritation or smoking. But whatever it is, the cough can and should be stopped immediately, for it tears you down.

When a cough threatens, take good, dependable old "Piso's for Coughs" as quickly as you can. Piso's does the five things necessary to stop a cough and repair the damage done. It checks the cough spasm, loosens the muscus, opens the air passages and soothes the inflamed tissues, and, at the same time, has a tonic value that tends to build up what the cough tears down. Only Piso's supplies these five vital effects and it contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach. Safe to give even to babies. All druggists sell Piso's in 35c and 60c sizes. Be sure you ask for "Piso's for Coughs".

Stewart Digs Beneath Much-Discussed Offer Of Aid By Democrats

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON Nov. 19—The lion and the lamb hardly furnish a suitable comparison. Republican-Democratic co-operation in the 72nd congress would be more like a mutually helpful relationship between a bull terrier and a wildcat.

Such being the case, is it surprising that the G. O. P. bosses find it hard to hide their suspicions of their rival managers' offer of Jeffersonian aid in any plan to get the country back upon a prosperity basis?—no matter how much the G. O. P. may profit by it, which necessarily must be at Aunty Democracy's expense in the next presidential campaign.

Not, possibly, that the G. O. P. folk really believe Democratic politicians would prolong the business depression to improve their party's 1932 chances. However, Republican and Democratic economic ideas actually conflict. How then, can the two groups co-operate?

The seven Democratic notabilities (Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Representative John N. Garner, Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis, James M. Cox, John J. Raskob and Jouett Shouse, who issued the assurance of the Jeffersonian's determination to hamper the G. O. P. in no fashion whatever, were rather patronizing about it. Nevertheless their statement sounded genuine enough.

Senator James E. Watson in replying as the Republican's spokesman, was bound to express himself politely and he did, but it was quite obvious his tongue was in his cheek.

In fact he hinted at a theory of his own, to account for the Democratic seven's manifesto—a hope on the Democrat's part that their pledge "would stabilize the public markets, which have been falling out of alarm (before the word "alarm" Watson insterted the qualifying adjective "unnecessary" but it is a safe bet that he did not intend it to be taken seriously) since election."

It was not a bad come-back of Watson's either—amounting to an interpretation of the statement as signifying that the Democrats were trying to soothe the nation, in its fright over their congressional gains, with a promise not to interfere with the G. O. P's competent handling of its destinies, by their own unskillful meddling.

Of course the distinguished seven did not intend their announcement to be interpreted as Watson interpreted it: they do not consider Aunty Democracy's statesmanship unskillful.

But, for all that—

What did they mean?

They certainly did not mean that they have not a legislative program in mind that they want to put through if they can scrape together the necessary votes to do it. We can be postive of that for they already are talking about a lot of "pop-gun" tariff bills—bills to reduce the import tax on here a commodity and there a commodity, as distinguished from general reduction of everything.

One hypothesis is that the seven's purpose was to let everyone know it is not the Democrat's scheme to force an extra session of congress next summer.

As a matter of fact, they WILL force an extra session if they can, without making themselves unpopular: not otherwise.

It is natural in them to yearn for a special session.

The congress which is due to meet this December is not the newly-elected congress, but the same old congress that came in with President Hoover. It will hang on until March 4 and then, unless an extra session is called, the new one (with a lot more Democrats in it) will not meet until December 1931.

If an extra session can be forced however, the new and larger Democratic crowd can get busy immediately.

And an extra session can be forced.

The Democrats have sufficient strength in the senate to tie up the coming winter's business—to prevent unemployment relief, and passage of laws supplying the government with money to run on.

That would compel President Hoover to summon the new congress together directly after the old one's adjournment.

But it never, never, would do.

Such a performance would enrage the whole country with the legislators responsible for it. The Democrats have far better sense than to attempt such a thing, and everyone knows it: so that can't be the reason for the seven's proclamation.

Yet it seems impossible that the seven sincerely fancy that they can induce any considerable number of the Democrats in congress truly to co-operate with the Republicans.

Already many of the former, including Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, are beginning to scold about the seven's statement.

And no wonder.

Consider!—

A round dozen of new senators and a couple of score or more of new representatives have just been elected on their pledge to oppose the regime of the last two years in Washington—and now, out comes a statement from seven of their party leaders pledging them to co-operate with it!

It is unbelievable that the seven meant that either.

The best guess is that the seven were actuated in part by a desire to rub hard times into the administration in part by a desire to claim credit for the improvement they expect in the near future, in part by a desire to show the voters how disinterested and public-spirited their party is—about 95 per cent bluff and blah in it.

As Senator Moses with his customary succinctness, expressed himself:

"I fear Democrats bringing gifts."

Rev. Margaret Joshua Continues Services At Stockton, N. Y.

So much spiritual good has arisen from the two weeks series of evangelistic sermons given by Rev. Margaret Joshua of this city in the First Methodist church of Stockton, N. Y., that Mrs. Joshua has been prevailed upon to continue the meetings another week.

Thursday evening of last week 17 converts came to the altar and Friday evening 15 seekers were converted and on other evenings there has been much spiritual blessing evinced as the heart searching messages of Rev. Joshua are brought home to the individuals. Mrs. Joshua is a speaker of force and has convincing bible truths at her tongue's end, being a profound student of the Bible as well as a persuasive speaker.

Rev. Joshua had planned on returning to her home at the end of last week's meetings, but will continue through this week to bring her nightly sermons to the people of Stockton.

Democracy still lives. The Supreme Court called at the White House. Only four carried cases, and these were due to infirmities of age. Half were ungloved, and none wore spats. —The Wheeling (W. Va.) Intelligencer.

Peter's Adventures

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent

FORTUNES OF WAR

There was no fun in thinking what might happen to a captive of war taken in a raid by the cruel Red Ants upon the weaker Black Ants. Peter tried his best to get his mind off the matter. Better try to hit on a plan that would save his friends and his own skin than to borrow trouble. When would the underground tunnel be reached? How much farther had he to go before he could begin his spying on the enemy's movements? Peter was in a hurry to get to work. Anything would be better than being underground at such a moment. An exclamation from Busy broke in upon his thoughts.

"Beware the guards!" cred Busy, sharply, and not quite in time. Peter bumpped headlong into one in turning a corner.

"Who goes there?" the guard demanded.

"Two friends," answered Busy. "Let us pass, guard. We are on a mission of importance."

"Well, if it was anybody else but you" said the guard, doubtfully.

"It isn't!" Busy was quite firm about it. "So step out of the way guard, and let us pass. Keep your eyes on the cows, and watch out for the enemy's spies. But when the order comes, 'Flee for your life!' don't argue about it. News has just arrived from the battlefield that our side is losing!"

"Fortunes of war" murmured the guard. Not another word of fear nor complaint did Peter hear nor utter. And Peter hurried by with a thought of praise for the brave Black Ants who accepted things just as they found them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—On June 30, 1930, the closing day of last fiscal year, 37,927 residents of Pennsylvania were on the pension payroll of the federal government, receiving a total of $17,052,760 annually in compensation, E. W. Morgan, acting pension commissioner, reveals in his annual report made public today. Mr. Morgan is serving temporarily in the position made vacant by the death of Earl D. Church, of Connecticut, former commissioner of the pension bureau.

The federal pension payroll on the last day of the fiscal year included the names of 456,024 residents of continental United States who were receiving pensions totalling $208,750,861.24 annually. Of the 456,024 pensioners, 8.3 per cent were Pennsylvania residents, and of the total pension payroll of $208,750,861.24, a little more than 8.1 per cent was paid to the Pennsylvania pensioners.

Pennsylvania ranks second of the 48 states in the number of residents on the pension payroll and second in the annual value of compensation received by the pensioners. Ohio led the country with 41,024 pensioners receiving annual pensions totaling $19,602,722, according to the annual report.

Preparing For Second Semester At Senior High

Election Cards For Second Semester Of School To Be Made Out Soon

Election cards for the second semester of the present school year will be filled out on Wednesday and Thursday at the Senior high school, according to Principal F. L. Orth. The students receive these cards and write on them the subjects they wish to study next semester.

After the cards are gathered the office officials start completing the schedule for the second semester.

Completing Plans For Thanksgiving Service For City

Plans are well under way for the annual union Thanksgiving service of the city, which is sponsored by the Ministerial Association of which Rev. D. C. Schnebly is president.

The program committee, Rev. F. E. Stough, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Dr. C. G. Farr, district superintendent of the Methodist churches and Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, has been busily engaged mapping out the details of the service, so everything will be in perfect order when the service opens at 10 a. m. on Thanksgiving day, November 27.

Dr. W. H. McMasters, president of Mt. Union college, and a speaker of enviable repute, has been chosen to deliver the Thanksgiving message.

J. W. Owens, choir director of the First Baptist church, will have charge of the musical program and the various ministers of the city will take part in the devotional services.

Cripples In Rural Areas Given Help

Time Was When Those Living Out Of Town Went Unnoticed, Society Says

Crippled children in rural districts in Pennsylvania have no further fear for lack of medical attention, the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children, Inc., announced today in conjunction with the state-wide observance of Crippled Children's Week, now under way.

Welfare organizations throughout Pennsylvania cooperating with the state society are uniting with one another in the observance of the week. It will continue until Saturday night.

Only crippled children within the confines of the city were given attention by experts before the organization of the state society, the summary of the organization points out. Those residing in the rural districts were at that time practically forgotten.

It was shown that in many communities, clinics are held every week. Some occur once a month, every six weeks, every three months, every six months while others are conducted once a year. There is only a small percentage of communities not holding clinics.

Efforts of the society to raise funds by membership, solicitation here are being directed by Rex. L. Patch, New Castle chairman.

Interesting tints of blues, beige, brown, greens and grays are listed for spring, if you're interested at this early day. The favored blues are guardsmen and admiralty; three beige shades are represented by sea sand, Burmatan, a deep brownish tan and Singalee, tan with dull brown cast. Sky gray and pitachio and chukker green are also cited.

Reapportionment Is Announced By Hoover

Shift Of Twenty-Seven Seats In Next Session Of Congress, Result Of 1930 Census

Eleven States Will Gain New Congressmen From Twenty-One Other States

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Hoover Tuesday promulgated the new 1930 census figures for the various states, upon which congress is to be re-apportioned.

Excluding territories and the District of Columbia, and Indians, the population for 1930 is fixed at 122,093,455.

With the membership of the house of representatives remaining at 435, there will be a shift of 27 seats in the next congress, with 11 states gaining seats from 21 other states.

The states which will gain representatives in the next congress are: California, 9; Connecticut, 1; Florida, 1; Michigan, 4; New Jersey, 2; New York, 2; North Carolina, 1; Ohio, 2; Oklahoma, 1; Texas, 5; Washington, 1.

States losing representatives are: Alabama, 1; Georgia, 2; Indiana, 1; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 2; Maine, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Minnesota, 1; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 3; Nebraska, 1; North Dakota, 1; Pennsylvania, 2; Rhode Island, 1; South Carolina, 1; South Dakota, 1; Tennessee, 1; Vermont, 1; Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 1.

Did your child have a Sick Spell this Winter?

A sick spell is always bad enough, but its after-effects are often worse. If your child has been sick recently, now is the dangerous time.

Resistance is at a low ebb, vitality is lowered, and your child does not have the reserve strength to resist infection.

For over 75 years Father John's Medicine has proved its worth as a body builder, as a tonic for weak, run-down children, as an aid to healthy vigor.

It supplies in easily assimilated form the food elements your child vitally needs and which are missing from so many modern diets. Pale, half-sick children pick right up. Colds become few and far between. Weight is added, strength returns.

Father John's Medicine is a combination of valuable ingredients, none of which could harm an infant. It contains no alcohol or drugs. Because of its scientific preparation it brings to your child all the benefits of cod liver oil in its finest form. It is rich in vitamins. Children thrive on it amazingly. And they love to take it because it tastes good.

If your child has been sick recently, if it catches cold easily, if it is run-down, underweight, try Father John's Medicine. Over 184 hospitals and institutions use it regularly. Countless mothers are never without it. Just ask your druggist.

Estimating Of State Revenues Is No Easy Task

Secretary Of Revenue Must Prepare Estimate So Budget Can Be Drafted

GOV. FISHER WILL LEAVE BIG BALANCE

Income Of Last Two Years Has Exceeded Expectations Of Administration

(From News Bureau (State Capital))

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Estimating state revenues for the biennium beginning June 1, 1931, will be no easy task in the opinion of Capitol Hill officials with knowledge of fiscal affairs. Under the fiscal code the secretary of revenue is to prepare an estimate of income for the governor so that the budget can be drafted.

In view of the present condition of business the income during the last five months of the bi-ennium may not be up to the estimates as prepared for the 1929 legislature. However, there will be a substantial surplus in the state treasury when the bi-ennium closes at the end of next May.

Governor Fisher last week told the State Council of Republican Women that he would leave a balance of from $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 for the incoming administration. Budget Secretary Arthur P. Townsend is more cautious and estimates a balance of more than $11,000,000.

The last legislature repealed the tonnage tax on anthracite coal and despite that gradual loss of revenues the income from other sources has been far beyond expectations. The decline in value of stock prices will have its effect on the income from the capital stock tax.

With the prospects for a healthy surplus in the state treasury at the end of the bi-ennium department heads in their budget requests for the next two years are asking for almost the impossible. The surplus could be spent many times over if the pruning knife is not applied to these various requests for what many cabinet members feel are laudable projects.

The expected treasury balance will probably more than offset any declines in revenues for the coming bi-ennium. In years past during periods of industrial slackening the state's income has always shown an increase over the previous bi-ennium.

Hope To Save 32 Diphtheria Toxin

Three Leading Bacteriologists Of Colombia Aid In Fight To Save Youngsters

(International News Service)

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA, Nov. 19.—A commission of Colombia's three leading bacteriologists appointed by the National Department of Health was rushed to Medelin by plane today in an effort to save the lives of 32 children erroneously administered diphtheria toxin by a hospital interne.

Sixteen others already are dead, while hospital authorities feared that many of the surviving victims were beyond recovery or their health permanently impaired.

The commission was charged also with conducting a rigid investigation into the tragedy.

A police guard cordoned the hospital to prevent attacks up the staff by infuriated parents, who attempted to invade the institution.

Slippery Rock Football Star Still Missing

Failure To Find Trace Of Robert Hines Leads To Belief He Left Voluntarily

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Nov. 19.—Failure to find any clue whatever which might lead to the whereabouts of Robert Haines, 17-year-old Slippery Rock High School football star, who has been missing from his home since November 7, leads friends in Slippery Rock to believe that he is alive and that he most likely has left home of his own accord.

It is believed that had he met with foul play or been kidnapped, that some trace of him would have been discovered by now.

A recent report that he might have been in Canonsburg, Pa., was investigated by his parents, who are certain that the youth seen there was not their son. The description of the boy seen in Canonsburg late last week does not tally with that of the Slippery Rock youth.

Hines disappeared following the football game between Slippery Rock and Bessemer high schools, and was last seen a short time after the game. State police and borough officials have been looking for him since that time, and have failed to uncover a single clue which might lead to the discovery of his whereabouts.

No motive can be advanced for his disappearance as he was never involved in any trouble of any kind.

WELL-KNOWN MAN PRAISES DIAPEPSIN FOR STOMACH ILLS

"For over two years I had heartburn and gas on my stomach," says A. L. Davidson, popular Navy Yard employee, of 815 Eye Street, S.E., Washington, D. C.
"I would belch often, leaving a sour, hot taste in my mouth. Few things agreed with me.
"Then I read about it and got me some Pape's Diapepsin. I had immediate relief from the first few tablets, so I kept on with it. Now I feel fine; eat all the fried foods I want without bad after-effects. I have gained eight pounds since starting on Pape's Diapepsin and my trouble is all gone. The tablets are pleasant to chew and sure get results quickly."
Pape's Diapepsin is the best thing yet discovered to end digestive worries, give tone to a disordered stomach, increase appetite, make digestion vigorous and complete. Its success in so many cases where everything else has failed, proves that.
All drugstores sell these harmless, pleasant tablets. If you prefer to try them before buying, a letter to Pape's Diapepsin, Wheeling, W. Va., will bring a sample box, FREE.

Easiest Way To Break Up a Cold
Millions Say of This Proved Way
Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before You Know It
If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.
Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.
Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.
If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

Three Hundred Studying Music

Youngsters Of Benjamin Franklin Junior High Are Enthusiastic Musicians

Number of students enrolled in music classes, bands and orchestras of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school is 366, according to Miss Eva Coulter, who has charge of the instrumental department.

There are two bands at the school and a senior and junior orchestra.

Some have their own instruments. The young music enthusiasts are getting the idea that the better the instrument the better the results and many are hoping that among their Christmas gifts there will be a violin, horn, or whatever instrument they desire.

One junior high girl is expecting a horn for Christmas.

Among the students who just recently purchased new instruments are Edward Schlossberg, a double B-flat sousaphone; and Arthur Cresci and Hugh Davis, silver clarinets.

Girl Reserves To Have Donation Day

Every year when Thanksgiving Day draws near, the Girl Reserves at the high school sponsor a Thanksgiving donation. This year this event will be held on Monday, November 24, when the students of the school donate food stuffs which after collected are given to those in need.

The food stuffs will help to make a happy Thanksgiving Day for some families in need.

New Senators To Have Seats In Back Room

Hold-over Members Will Have "Move-up Day" When Legislature Convenes

ONLY FOUR LOST FROM REAR ROW

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—The nine new members of the State Senate who were elected this month will all occupy seats in the back row. Desire of Senator Leon C. Prince from Cumberland county to remain in the rear of the Senate chamber has helped officials to arrange the seating for the 1931 session.

There will be a regular "move up" day for hold-over members when the Senate meets in January. Four old-timers who occupied seats in the front row will now be back when Lieutenant Governor Arthur H. James calls the body to order.

The quartet who will not be back to occupy seats in the front row are Senators Albert Davis, Lackawanna county; Max C. Leslie, Allegheny county; Harvey Huffman, Monroe county, and Charles W. Sones, Lycoming county. Senator Huffman was the only one of the four defeated for re-election, the others not being candidates.

As usual the Democratic senators will occupy seats along the aisle to the extreme right of the presiding officer. There will be four Democrats in the next Senate, as compared with a half dozen in the 1929 legislature. Sones, Huffman and the late Senator Lawrence E. McCrossin, Philadelphia, are three Democrats who sat in the last session. Senators Henry E. Lanius, York county; Herman E. Baumer, Johnstown, and Warren R. Roberts, Northampton county, are hold-over members of the minority. The newcomer is Henry L. Snyder of Lehigh county.

Not all of the senators desire seats in the front row. Senator John G. Homsher of Lancaster, the "dean" in point of service, prefers the second row along the center aisle.

All baby members of the Senate, however, will get desks along the back rail. The Senate this session will have the baby legislator in the person of Joseph G. Armstrong Jr., son of the Allegheny county commissioner. He is under 30 and takes the place of the veteran Leslie.

Ten Reported Missing, Scores Homeless As Result Of Flood In Hawaiian Islands

(International News Service)

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 19.—Two persons were dead, ten were reported missing and scores were homeless today as the results of floods on the Island of Oahu. The floods were caused by a downpour of rain which fell to a depth of 2.74 inches in 24 hours.

For a time it appeared as if the Nuuanu reservoir above the city would collapse, but the danger of a catastrophe was averted when rain ceased falling last night.

Soon there will be machines to do the breadlines.

Heres Our Nomination For Most Unique Job In Pa Newc's Domain

America's unemployed army might take a tip from a brand new job created right here in New Castle. The job is not the most pleasant in the world, but affords employment nevertheless.

Now the task assigned to "Slim Jim" is official rat catcher at the New Castle Feed Store building on Moravia street. Kind of makes you shudder to read about it, doesn't it? Well it seems that this local concern has so many rats that it doesn't know what to do, just like the old lady in the shoe who had so many children, you know the rest about that famed story, well——.

"Slim Jim", who is butting in on the cats Union, goes around the building every morning and sets 31 traps. After collecting all the "pests" that have been fooled by the "cheese", "Slim Jim" or the rat catcher shows the rodents to the proprietor who pays the rat catcher by the size of the pest and by the number he catches.

This has been going on for sometime and is bringing in a neat sum for "Slim Jim". Some days, Slim gathers as high as 15 and 20 rats. It appears to the owner that the invaders of the different products in the feed business will never die out.

ADMITS KILLING HIS LANDLORD

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 19.—Pleading guilty to a charge of voluntary manslaughter, Michael Stulnik, 45, of near Avella, slayer of George Chupa, 48, a farmer of the same district, was sentenced from four and a half to nine years in the Western Penitentiary. Stulnik boarded in the Chupa home.

The Bowels Get Real Help from this Doctor's Prescription

TRAIN your bowels to be regular; to move at the same time every day; to be so thorough that they get rid of all the waste. Syrup Pepsin—a doctor's prescription—will help you do this. When you take this compound of laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other valuable ingredients, you are helping the bowels to help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the sensible thing to take whenever you are headachy, bilious, half-sick from constipation. When you have no appetite, and a bad taste or bad breath shows you're full of poison.

Dr. Caldwell studied bowel troubles for 47 years. His prescription always works, quickly, thoroughly; can never do you any harm. It just cleans you out and sweetens the whole digestive tract. It gives those over-worked bowels the help they need.

Take some Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin today, and see how fine you feel tomorrow—and for days to come. Give it to the kiddies when they're sickly or feverish; they'll like the taste! Your druggist has big bottles of it, all ready for use.

Huge Clipping Job Awaits Stable Men; 33 Horses In Line!

There will be plenty of "nexts" next week at the Troop F stables. It was announced by Capt. Bintrim, troop commander, that 33 heads and bodies—will be clipped by the stable crew, Stable Sergeant Percy J. Knight and Henry W. Robison.

According to commander received at the armory from Maj. Samuel B. Wolfe, commander of the Second Squadron, 103rd Cavalry, the time is correct for clipping the guardsmen's cavalry mounts.

Pittsburghers To Renew Drive For Ohio Canal

Will Boost Proposition At Meeting In St. Louis Next Week

Pittsburgh proponents of a Lake Erie and Ohio river canal have renewed their efforts to seek construction of this waterway, following a meeting held in Pittsburgh this week and will send a delegation to St. Louis to attend the meeting of the Mississippi Valley association to push their claims.

A meeting to organize forces in behalf of the canal was held in the offices of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce Monday and Pittsburgh city council on the same day passed a resolution fearing immediate construction of the canal.

The movement has been renewed as an employment relief measure and supplements the efforts of the Beaver, Mahoning & Shenango Valley association to secure canalization of the three local streams.

The Pittsburgh effort seeks to have the canal completed from the end of the proposed canalization of the Mahoning river at Warren through to Lake Erie.

Public Invited To Attend Function In Legion Home Thursday Evening

Members of the Ladies' auxiliary to the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a spaghetti dinner in the Legion Home building, Thursday evening at 6:30, to which the public as well as members of the McBride Post have been invited to attend.

The dinner will be followed by a short business session, when several important business matters will come up for discussion.

President Flossie Potter urges a full attendance of the members and cordially invites the public to attend.

Boys Like To Learn To Play Horns At School

Boys who have desired to enroll in the instrumental department of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school this year have shown a marked preference for horns, according to Miss Eva Coulter, instructress in music.

"There isn't enough horns in the department to supply the demand. In order to benefit boys who would profit most by the instruction the horns are given to those who have proven their earnest desire to learn to play them."

Not string instruments, but horns are what the boys want. It makes no difference at all, to most of them, what kind of horns, just so that they are horns.

Demand For Doe Permits Declines

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—The demand which marked the first few days when licenses were available for killing does during the coming special season recently has shown a marked decrease.

At the present the commission has about 30,000 of the special licenses available for sections in which doe deer may be killed legally on November 27, 28 and 29.

Because of the necessity of checking each of the applications carefully, commission officials to-day urged those who intend to hunt does to make applications early.

OPERATIONS SPEEDED AT SHARON PLANT

SHARON, Pa., Nov. 19.—Operations at the Sharon plant of the Sharon Steel Hoop company advanced 10 per cent this week, bringing the schedule to 60 per cent of capacity. The open hearth department will raise its melting rate from 34 to 50 per cent, the first increase in many weeks. Sheet output of the plant will be near capacity and strip out put at 60 per cent.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Train Early In Restraint Says Dr. Myers

Child Is More Lovable If He Is Taught Self-Control

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Thank you for your letter. I have great respect for those who frankly disagree with me.

You and I agree that we want our children to love us. We differ only in our method of procedure. You believe that to spank the child under four or five will mean childhood horrors to him, and no love by him for his parents. I believe that spanking, intelligently administered at a very early age, will, in the long run, make the child love his parents more.

You probably have in mind the child who is whipped and thumped and beaten about, or who is spanked merely because the parent at the time is seeking some outlet for his anger. You also seem to think of spanking as a kind of vengeance by the large, strong parent, on the small, weak child. I, with you, would call this torture and barbarity. Remember that I advocated spanking only that was limited to a few specific situations, only with a very definite purpose carefully thought through beforehand; that I showed how it can be done effectively so as to be abolished before the child is four or five, making whipping entirely unnecessary at any age.

I have three children, now 8, 14 and 16. Their parents can recall no instances when their children were resentful following punishment. Just a minute ago one home from high school pushed her head through the door of my study with "Hello, dad," in a tenderness I still can feel.

Downstairs I hear the daughter of 14 playing the piano for her own enjoyment and the family's, and the lad of 8 is absorbed in a story being read to him by his mother. There goes the call to dinner. Dinner over.

I wish you had been with us to enjoy the family hour together. If you had heard the children outwitting their parents with conundrums and had heard them freely tell about their day's experiences, you would not say you suppose they hated us.

Since they learned very early the meaning of "no", they escaped tongue tortures. We have found no occasion to yell at them or nag at them. These children, one time spanked, are happy.

Teach the little child very early that there are a few things he must not have and must not do, and you are more likely then to be lovable to him and he to you.

Let him go unrestrained for a few years and he comes so frequently into conflict with you and others that his bad habits will probably crowd out most of the real affection which you and he ought to have for each other.

If you love your child and want him to love you, train him early in some restraint. If you want him to grow up to despise you, let him do as he likes.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally, write me enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Specialist Will Show Method Of Preparing Bait

Demonstration Will Take Place On Farm Of J. W. Cummings, Friday Afternoon

Lawrence County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch anticipates that the demonstration that will take place on Friday afternoon at the farm of J. W. Cummings, New Wilmington will be profitable and interesting to all who attend.

John Ruef, fruit specialist from State College, will demonstrate the method of preparing poison bait for field and pine mice. The county orchardists will meet at the J. W. Cummings farm at 1:30 p. m.

As damage caused by pine and field mice is excessive in many orchards, a large number of growers place poison bait on the ground around the trees for protection.

Annual Roll Call Will Be Brought To A Close On Thanksgiving Day

With city and county workers putting forth every effort, the 14th annual roll call of the American Red Cross, which opened on Armistice Day is making splendid progress and many returns are being received daily at the headquarters of the Lawrence county chapter.

Local friends of the Red Cross have answered the appeal for funds in the city in a pleasing manner, and many former contributors have given liberally this year. Letters were mailed to many friends of the Red Cross in the city and each day has brought many subscriptions.

Contributors are urged to send in their subscriptions as quickly as possible as it is desirable to end the solicitation of memberships on Thanksgiving day, the closing date of the drive.

A message to this effect has also been sent to each county roll call worker, urging them to see their prospects so that they will be able to make a report as soon as the campaign ends on Thanksgiving day.

Booths To Be Open.

A booth has been established in the New Castle Dry Goods company store, where one of the employes of the store is receiving memberships daily.

In addition, a booth will be established in the store on Friday and Saturday, when members of the Woman's club will have charge. Booths will also be established in Higgins Brothers and Strouss-Hirshbergs.

Those who will be in charge of these booths are as follows:

New Castle Dry Goods—Friday, November 21, Mrs. W. A. Pond; Saturday, November 22, Mrs. E. A. DeLan and Mrs. L. Claude Mantz.

Strouss-Hirshberg company—Friday, November 21, Mrs. John Elder Jr., and Mrs. H. L. Gordon; Saturday, November 22, Mrs. H. M. Kirk.

Higgins Brothers—Friday, November 21, Mrs. Sam Klafter and Mrs. Edwin Moore; Saturday, Mrs. J. C. Leohner.

Members of the board at their meeting Monday evening discussed the roll call at some length, in addition to other problems affecting the chapter.

Many activities are planned during the coming winter months, which will need additional funds besides the usual relief work carried on by the Red Cross among the ex-service men of the city and county.

Veteran relief occupied the biggest portion of the Lawrence county chapter's activities during the past year, and will continue to do so during the coming year.

The chapter aids the veterans and their families financially as well as giving them the benefit of their wide experience in handling their claims before the Veterans Bureau. Last year, food and clothing was provided for a great number of ex-service men and their families, particularly the disabled men and those in hospitals.

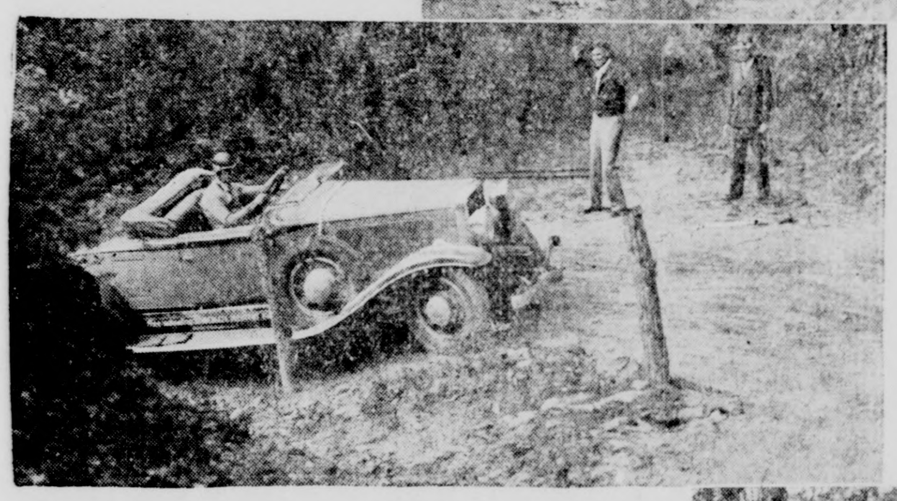
Ab Jenkins in free wheeling Studebaker using Amoco-Gas breaks all records up Mt. Mitchell

The top of Eastern America



DOWN in North Carolina stands the highest peak east of the Rockies--and up the side of Mt. Mitchell (elevation 6711 feet) winds a narrow, many-curved road--18½ miles long.

Ab Jenkins, fresh from his record-breaking climbs up Mt. Washington and Mt. Mansfield, highest of the White and Green Mountains of New England--brought his Free Wheeling Studebaker President Roadster to the foot of Mt. Mitchell a short time ago.

And then records began to fall in rapid succession. Powered by AMOCO-GAS, the Studebaker dashed up the twisting mountain road. Slamming into hairpin turns, skidding around them to make every second count, straightening out with but little loss of speed, Jenkins sped to the highest point an automobile can reach in 45 minutes flat. The old record had been a minute and fifteen seconds slower.

On the dash down, Jenkins clipped the course record for the descent by almost half a minute--so all records for Mt. Mitchell now officially belong to Studebaker and AMOCO-GAS!

For all these record-breaking climbs--Jenkins has specified AMOCO-GAS, the motor fuel he knows he can count on to make and break records.

Encouragement Seen For Steel Industry

Heavier Railroad Buying Lends Encouraging Air To Iron-Steel Industry

Production Has Advanced Slightly—Improvement May Come In January

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—Sources of encouragement in the iron and steel industry include prospects of heavier railroad buying, a slight gain in demand from the automotive industry, further moves toward stabilization of steel prices and indications that the scrap market may finally be scraping bottom, the Iron Age will say tomorrow in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade.

The gain in prospective demand, however, is interpreted as a promise of improvement in January rather than in the immediate future and seasonal forces are now at work which ordinarily cause a tapering of steel output as the year-end approaches.

Slight Advance

Production of the steel corporation has advanced slightly, the Iron Age will say, partly offsetting additional losses by other companies. Raw steel output for the country at large has declined to 43 per cent compared with 44 per cent a week ago.

Fresh reductions of $1 a ton on hot-rolled strip and $2 a ton on fender stock have appeared and nails have shown further weakness, now selling at $1.90 a keg to the jobbing trade.

Scrap markets are lethargic. Heavy melting grade is off 25 cents a ton at Pittsburgh and Detroit, but has advanced 50 cents at Philadelphia. The Iron Age steel scrap composite, at $11.67 a gross ton, is 11 cents higher than a week ago.

Eastern Pennsylvania foundry pig iron has declined 50 cents a ton to $17.50, furnace.

The Iron Age composite price for big iron has declined from $16.29 to $16.13 a gross ton. The finished steel composite is unchanged at 2.135C. a pound.

BIG DELEGATION WILL LEAVE FOR WATERWAYS MEET

discussion which will be vital to the future of the local project is expected to develop. Nothing will be left undone by representatives of the tri-rivers association to further this development.

Prominent Men Going

In addition to the above named men representing the Chamber of Commerce; a number of other prominent men from the city, several of whom are directors of the Chamber will also be present. They include W. W. Duff, vice president of the New Castle Lime and Stone Company; Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, C. Ed. Smith, Jr., of the C. Ed. Smith Furnace Company; Emanuel Shenkan, of the Haney Furniture Company, and president of the New Castle Better Business Bureau, C. J. Kirk, and W. Keith McAfee, representing the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company, A. J. Goldman, manager of the travel department of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, and Charles H. Johnson, Jr., director of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company.

The members of the board were informed that a special train has been secured for those men who are going from the district to attend this meeting, which will leave from Youngstown, Sunday evening. Approximately 125 men will represent the Association at the meetings opening Monday morning, coming from Ellwood City, Wampum, Rochester, Sharon, Greenville, Beaver Falls, and New Castle in Pennsylvania, and Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Girard, and Cleveland, O.

Discuss Industry

At the convention, Frank Purnell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, and Hon. John G. Cooper of Youngstown, the latter representative of Mahoning county in Congress, will be present, and an effort is also being made to secure the attendance of Dr. J. Howard Swick, local representative in Congress who sponsored the original legislation providing for a survey of the three streams which would be effected by slackwatering.

A prospective industry for New Castle was also discussed by directors at the meeting yesterday, and a representative will be sent from New Castle to New York to investigate this company, which has expressed a desire to locate in this city.

Those in attendance at the meeting were President L. G. Genkinger, and the following directors; W. W. Duff, P. J. Flaherty, T. H. Hartman, A. C. Hoyt, John H. Lamb, James K. Love, W. J. Offutt, D. S. Pyle, James M. Smith, Sr., T. W. Dickey, H. B. Richards, Robert J. Tully and secretary Chilton.

Bankers' Dinner Fete Cancelled

Last Minute Conflictions Make Action Necessary; No Meeting Friday

Unexpected developments after press time Tuesday made it necessary to postpone the scheduled dinner and program of the Lawrence County Bankers' Association which was to have been held on Friday, until early in December, Secretary John D. Kennedy announced today.

The News yesterday carried the announcement of the dinner, at which R. C. Stiefel, official of the Aetna Standard Engineering company at Ellwood City was to have made the principal address. The decision to cancel it came late in the day.

It was said that a definite date for the postponed affair will be announced within the near future.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer

APPROVES SUGGESTIONS

Editor New Castle News,

Dear Sir: Your editorial in yesterday's issue of your paper, in which you make several practical suggestions to meet the present shortage of jobs that is causing so much worry and hardship for many of our fellow citizens, should be met with the hearty co-operation of all those interested in the welfare of their neighbors.

Practical suggestions like these, coupled with sermons like that of the Rev. Joshua in his sermon last Sunday, is, to my mind, real practical Christianity, and does more to restore one's faith in their fellows than a lot of misplaced charity, no matter how well intended.

The self-respecting man wants to pay his way, and while charity has its place in the drama of life, it's about the bitterest pill any self-respecting man has to swallow, even in time of stress. So why should not some of these suggestions of yours be put in effect? Raze the old Martin Gantz school building? Sure—why not? It's only an eyesore as it stands and as you so aptly state, it will never be used for anything else. There is much of the material in it that could be used, no doubt. It would at least make a site for a new school, so badly needed in that district, and in the meantime could be used for parking.

The suggestion that a decent road be made to the Burton Company should, by all means, receive the endorsement of everyone interested in the development of our city. Would it not encourage other interests if they knew that our people were ready to do their part to encourage manufacturers to locate in our city?

I am of the opinion that all of your suggestions are practical and should receive consideration, particularly so at this time; and now that I have expressed myself on this subject, I would like, if I might to add a word or two in commendation of the Rev. Joshua. I have a notion, Rev. Joshua, that if you ministers would preach a few more sermons like that of yours you wouldn't have so many empty pews staring you in the face on a Sunday evening. Irrespective of the merits or demerits of the different sites for additional bridges over the Neshannock, I am inclined to take sides with the Rev. Joshua.

To my notion a bridge from Croton to the North Hill would not only go a long way to relieve the traffic situation in the downtown section, but would give to the people on the East Side something that they are certainly entitled to; that of a shorter and safer route to our senior high school. As I see it, the needs of our future citizens should receive as much, in fact a little more, than the needs of we older folks, for after all, they are going to need them longer and it's quite likely that they will have the biggest part of the cost to pay. While it's true the costs will be more, what if it is? The more money paid out in wages, the more meat will be bought, the more clothes will be bought, the more bills will be paid, and above all will be the joy it will bring to many a poor fellow in the satisfaction of knowing that his wife and children are not dependent on what we are pleased to call "charity".

It's all right to save, be economical and lay by for a rainy day—but when it's rainin', let's not keep our umbrella folded and walk with it under our arm in the rain and get our death of cold. Best hoist the old umbrella and offer some of our less fortunate brothers shelter.

"Seventh Ward Speaking".
J. HERB McILVENNY.

Editor The News:—

In behalf of Rev. Mrs. A. E. Guthrie, myself and family, we wish to thank the people of New Castle for their efforts to co-operate in the ordination of Rev. Mrs. Guthrie. We also wish to thank The News for the correct report in Monday's News and all those who took part in the ordination program at the Spiritualist Church of Truth.

Yours respectfully,
DANIEL JOHN.

Family Is Well Provided For; As Misfortune Hits

Family Destitute For Food, Auto Broken Down, Helped In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—With a stuttering protesting gasp, a dilapidated, broken-down automobile rolled to a halt in Water street.

Anthony Sauer wondered how he was going to get his family back home to Bethlehem.

Penniless, no gas in the machine, with brakeless wheels—and he and his family and the family dog were hungry.

An all night restaurant provided the food—a night watchman berthed the family in an office.

Meanwhile, as they slept, Patrolman J. M. Sweeney of the traffic division notified the relief committee of the fraternal order of police.

The Sauer family is enroute home today, well fed, hopeful and happy, and with enough money to "see it through".

A garage man relined the brakes. A local Refining company furnished oil, and gas was purchased. An electric company and the police relief committee provided a purse sufficient to take care of them for several days.

Sauer, a pipefitter, his wife, Anna, their son, Anthony, Jr., 5, and "Brownie," the dog, left Bethlehem looking for employment three weeks ago.

Activities In Full Swing At Local Y.W.C.A.

Bowling And Roller Skating Fastly Becoming Popular Sports

The gymnasium and bowling alleys of the local Y. W. C. A. were in a bustle of activity Tuesday evening.

Twenty-two women donned roller skates and had a jolly and noisy time in the gymnasium. Roller skating is becoming more and more popular with the women, judging from the number there last night and their reactions to it.

Skates were furnished by the health department of the Y. W. C. A. Instruction was furnished by Miss Caroline Streeter, director of physical education. The gymnasium was especially prepared with whitening, making it non-skid.

Bowling attracted a number of women. The bowling alleys are in good shape, having been re-decorated. Instruction in bowling and scoring were given by Miss Streeter.

Thirty-six women were present at the regular gym class. Before and after the class the women indulged in special activities. They had a gala time.

Wants Damages For Injuries By Car

Suit Of Michael Barket Against Anthony De Simone Taken Up For Trial

The case of Michael Barket of 502 East Reynolds street against Anthony De Simone for damages for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Long avenue is on trial before Judge James A. Chambers today. The case is one in which Barket, who is 67 years of age, had gone to the home of George Tony of Pollock avenue, and not finding him at home, had started back.

When he reached Long avenue he says that he stopped and looked both ways, and not seeing any approaching automobile, had started across Long avenue, where he was struck by the care of De Simone, which was being driven in an easterly direction. Barket was knocked down and severely injured about the body and hips. He was laid up for some time and claims that he was permanently injured.

Negligence in the operation of the car at a high and excessive rate of speed is alleged. Damages in the sum of $10,000 is asked.

Aid To Trade

The releasing of $328,000.00 in New Castle within the next two weeks will be a material aid to trade here. Many people undoubtedly have planned upon using their Christmas fund for the purchase of needed articles and these can now be bought.

Using 50,000 as the population of New Castle this shows an average of $6.56 for every man, woman and child here.

The banks are getting ready for the annual rush of Christmas checks. Corps of clerks will soon be getting the checks ready for the mail, and on December 1st, the mailmen of the city will bear a golden harvest to those people who have been thrifty enough to lay a little by, week by week.

Friday Night Meeting Of Consistory Club Promises To Be Well Attended

William J. Moffatt, general chairman of the Consistory Dinner club has selected his committees for the Consistory dinner to be held Friday evening.

Howard O. Erwin has been selected as chairman of the reception committee and as Howard knows everyone who attends the dinner, they will be made welcome in true Masonic fashion, as he has the happy faculty of knowing just how this should be done.

Members from Grove City, headed by Otis Gilmore will have charge of the entertainment. The following have been selected as members of the reception committee of which Mr. Erwin is chairman.

The members of the committee are:—Dr. W. C. Wallace, C. Ed Brown, D. O. Davies, David J. Jones, Robert M. White, Charles H. Young, Daniel Woolcock, Louis B. Round, Harry Urmson, B. H. Kannenburg, William H. Kleckner, M. D. Wells, Dr. H. E. Zerner and Barton E. Richards.

Indications are that there will be a record attendance at this event and that they will find it one of the most enjoyable of such events that has been held in a long time.

Reward Money Is Not As Yet Paid

County Commissioners Are Undecided About Making Payment Now

No disposition has been made at press time today of the reward money in the hands of the county commissioners for the capture and conviction of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, slayers of Corporal Brady Paul.

The one thing holding up the payment of the money is the question in the minds of the county commissioners as to whether they can pay it under the terms of the resolution, until Tom Crawford is captured. The resolution calls for the payment of $1000.00 deward for the capture and conviction of the person or persons guilty of the crime.

The commissioners have the entire reward money in hand $3,200, but of this amount only $1000 was contributed by the county. The other part of it came from individuals and companies.

Plaintiff Awarded Verdict For $459

Suit On Trial Since Monday Before Judge Hildebrand Ended At Noon

In the case of the Surburban Electric Development Company of Pittsburgh against H. R. Boots, which has been on trial since Monday morning before Judge Hildebrand, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $459. In his charge Judge Hildebrand told the jury that under the evidence the plaintiff was entitled to that amount at least, leaving for the jury's consideration a matter of $31 additional over which there was some question. The jury retired and brought in a verdict for the amount named. The case grew out of a bill of the plaintiff against the defendant for supplies furnished in the installation of Frigidaires. Defendant was claiming a set off of five per cent commission to a Beaver county agent which the plaintiff claimed had never been authorized by the company.

Suspects Caught In Seventh Ward Carrying Sack

Police Had Visions Of Possible Vacant Hen Roosts In Making Arrest

City Officers Hagan and Suber and Baltimore and Ohio Officer Karl Wright felt that hen roosts in the seventh ward district and vicinity were in danger last night when they came upon William Jennings and Walter Johnson, both colored, bearing an empty sack and acting in a rather suspicious manner, and placed them under arrest.

When these colored men appeared before Mayor William H. Gillespie this morning they were assessed fines of $10 each on suspicion charges, and in default of payment of the same they are spending 10 days in the county jail.

This action was taken in the belief that the chicken coops of the district would probably be safer than with them being out.

M. B. A. Group To Stage Ball Here

P. R. R. Men, Families, Friends To Share In Dance Thursday Night

What those in charge predict will be one of the largest attended functions yet given under the auspices of the New Castle Local No. 55, Mutual Beneficial Association of the Pennsylvania railroad, the annual dance for members, their families and employe-friends, occurs Thursday evening at company headquarters here.

Special arrangements have been made to care for a large turnout in the social hall in the Pennsy's West Side freight house.

Comprising the committee in charge are C. I. Wetmore, chairman; J. S. Richards and C. R. Hopper.

P. R. R. Engineman Improving Daily

Engineer J. F. Ray of the Pennsylvania railroad, severely burned in a train-truck crash on a Sharon street crossing last Friday was still confined to the Buhl hospital at that place today. His condition, however was reported as improved.

The fireman of the locomotive, Archie Lewis, as well as the driver of the truck escaped serious injury.

Community Bible Class Opens With Large Attendance

Forty-Five Attend First Meeting Of Class At Y. W. C. A. Tuesday Evening

The initial meeting of the community Bible classes being conducted in the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday evening with an enrollment of 45 Sababth school workers, which augurs well for the success of the class this year.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, is teaching the class again this year and the life and work of Paul the Apostle will be the theme of the lessons, offering excellent assistance to the teachers in the preparation of their lessons as the Standard lessons will take up Paul's life during the coming year.

Almost every denomination of the city was represented in the gathering Tuesday evening.

Last year the classes were held regularly once a week, under the leadership of Rev. Bennett. Each class was well attended, and Rev. Bennett proved to be a most popular leader.

Thirteen denominations attended last year's classes regularly and as many if not more denominations of people are showing interest in this year's meetings.

The Religious and Educational committee of the Young Woman's Christian Association is sponsoring the Bible classes. This committee includes Mrs. J. L. Stratton, chairman, Mrs. T. W. Phillips, Mrs. George W. Conway and Mrs. James Blackwood.

On next Tuesday evening at 7:45 a second meeting will take place and it is hoped that even a larger number of people will be present.

Chrismas Savings Funds Are Permanent Thrift Measure

Christmas Savings Funds are now a permanent part of American thrift. In the past twenty years the advantage of the plan has been increasingly demonstrated and this year will see an enormous amount of ready cash loosed for distribution.

According to E. E. McGill, chairman of the board of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co., six hundred thirty-two millions dollars will be distributed to approximately 11,000,000 members of Christmas Savings Funds in America this Christmas. These come from more than 8,000 banks.

"The showing of Christmas Savings Funds this year" said Mr. McGill, "is an indication that the people are getting back to the old fashioned method of thrift as against the orgy of 1928-29 speculation. It also indicates an increased tendency to favor instalment savings to replace instalment buying."

"The inception of Christmas Savings Funds, twenty years ago, anticipated the need of providing an easy, simple, and practical method of systematically accumulating funds for the specific purpose of Christmas needs. Its sponsors were mindful of the opportunity it would bring to wage earners of regular habits of thrift in encouraging small weekly deposits for permanent investments and constructive uses."

Grange Ladies To Entertain Kiwanis

Kiwanians of the New Castle club, with their wives as guests, will gather Thursday evening for a chicken dinner and program in the Westfield grange hall, Mt. Jackson-Enon road. The affair marks one of the club's periodic grange meetings, and is in charge of the Rev. C. J. Williamson.

The dinner event substitutes for the luncheon-meeting which was to have been held today.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS FOR SENIOR B CLASS

For two hours and a half the Senior B class of the senior high school was kept busy this morning. The Otis Intelligence Tests were given this morning according to Principal F. L. Orth.

Before graduating a senior must take this test. The exams are based on general information. The tests are in a book like form. The students are timed on each test. The tests are kept permanetly in the office of the school. Information concerning the intelligence of a student are gathered from the tests and furnished to colleges on request.

No Rehearings By Pardon Board

Will Hold Last Session Next Month And Will Not Hold Over Cases

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—There will be no petitions for rehearing on the December calendar of the pardon board. The board next month will hold its last session of the present membership and for that reason it will receive no cases to act on that would go over for final consideration after the new board takes charge.

The December session of the board will be the last until February. On years when a new governor is inaugurated the January meeting is always omitted.

When the present board meets to grant its Christmas pardons it will act on all cases pending before it. There are 26 cases on the November list for rehearing which if allowed would be argued next month. The December list also is heavy because of prisoners hoping to find the board in a generous holiday attitude and granting many Christmas pardons.

On the next to the last session of the present board Attorney General William A. Schnader will make his first appearance as a member. He was named after the last session to take the place of Cyrus E. Woods, who resigned to spend the winter in Italy.

Secretary of Internal Affairs James F. Woodward will continue as a member of the pardon board until next May. His term does not expire until spring. During the 12 years that he had been a member of the board Secretary Woodward has passed on hundreds of pardon cases.

Slogan Hunt Contest Started By Franklin Hi-Y; Prizes Listed

Twelve Prizes To Be Given For City Youths In Hunt

The 75 boys who belong to the Ben Franklin Jr., Hi-Y were in a quandry. They need a slogan. The other day they got into a huddle and when the smoke cleared away there were many shining faces. The secret had been solved. They would stage a contest with the help of the Y. M. C. A. boys' work department. Here's the gist of the contest:

Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 16 inclusive may try to win by observing.

1. Everybody must observe the age limit.
2. Slogan must not consist of more than twelve words.
3. Slogan must be received before January 1, 1931.

Send slogans to Daniel Racioppo, 1029 Croton avenue, club advisor, or to Saul Waldman, 1217 East Washington street, president of the club.

Twelve Prizes

There will be at least twelve prizes awarded for the best slogans, according to Y. M. C. A. Boys' Work Director Thomas. The aim of the club is to "Create, maintain and extend through school and community high standards of Christian living."

Prizes—some of them—will include "Y" memberships, three wrist watches, necklaces, a football, etc.

Fill out the coupon below with your slogan. Send to either the club advisor or the club president.

British Steamer Grounds On Rocks, Passengers Safe

British Liner Highland Hope Goes On Rocks Near Lisbon, Spain

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 19.—All passengers of the new British Liner Highland Hope, which ran aground during the night off the Farilhoes Islands in a dense fog, today were placed abroad a government tug for transfer to Lisbon, reports to the London evening papers stated.

The 14,129-ton ship, carrying a number of prominent British persons among her 130 passengers and manned by a crew of 70, was enroute to Buenos Aires when she crashed into the rocks 25 miles north of Lisbon.

An S. O. S. flashed out at 2:17 Eastern Standard time sent the Steamer Mandalay, only 20 miles distant, to her help. Smaller vessels plunged quickly to the aid of the striken liner.

Mason-Dixon Line Best Known Boundary In U. S.

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The how and wherefore of the Pennsylvania-Maryland boundary along with the origins of many other state and national boundary lines are explained in a compilation which has just been issued by the United State Geological Survey.

According to the survey, the Mason and Dixon Line, which was run between Pennsylvania and Maryland by two famous English mathematicians in 1763 to 1767, is probably the most widely known boundary in the United States.

The survey's compilation relates how the work of the two Englishment was stopped by Indians, but by that time they had already run from the Delaware River to a point about 30 miles beyond the northwest corner of Maryland.

The accuracy of their survey is shown by the fact that in a resurvey 130 years later with modern instruments and methods the position found for the northeast corner of Maryland differed only 180 feet from their position.

The original stones for five-mile marks on this line separating the two States were carved in England from limestone and are still standing, with Lord Baltimore's coat-of-arms on the Maryland side and the Penn arms on the Pennsylvania side.

The account of the settlement of the Pennsylvania-Maryland dividing line and of numerous other boundary disputes is a fascinating story that forms an essential part of the history of this country, the Geological Survey believes, and therefore comprises a considerable part of the new bulletin on "Boundaries, areas, geographic centers, and altitudes of the United States and the several States, with a brief record of important changes in their territory and government".

The bulletin, which is purchasable from the Government Printing Office, presents a large amount of pertinent information, including extracts from many of the treaties and conventions by which the boundaries were established, a map showing routes of the principal explorers from 1501 to 1844, reproductions of two maps published in 1755 and 1847, and many general statistics.

Harmony Girl Awarded Prize

Margaret Warner Of Harmony, Is Given Prize For Grange Contest Essay

Margaret Ruth Warner, of Harmony, Pa., has been awarded a prize of $5 for winning sixth place in a National Grange Highway Safety Essay contest.

As a great number of young men and women of all granges of United States took part in the contest, the fact that Margaret would win sixth place is quite an honor and shows that she is a writer and thinker of rare ability.

Miriam Evelyn Jobe, 15 years old, a member of Connellsville, Indiana Grange has been awarded first prize in the contest. As first prize winner Miss Jobe is attending the annual sessions of the grange in Rochester, N. Y., from November 12 to 21, as the guest of the national automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Margaret Warner is the only person in Pennsylvania to be included in the six prizes.

Scouts To Have Indoor Field Meet

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 19.—The field meet for the Ellwood City district scouts, which was postponed on account of bad weather, will be held in the form of an indoor meet at the Shelby club auditorium November 26, at 7:45 p. m. sharp. It is hoped that every troop in the Ellwood district will be represented. Troops in good standing are reported as follows: Ellwood 1 and 2 (St. Agatha's), Ellwood 7, 10, 13 and 14, Wampum 1 and Wurtemburg 1.

The program will include the following list of events: Troop inspection, fire by friction, dressing race distance runs are shorter, firemen's carry relay, knot tying, with entries furnishing their own clothesline first aid race. This makes a six-event meet and the troop scoring the highest number of points will receive 15 additional points, second place 10 additional points and third place five additional points. Each troop is allowed one entry per event. Various prizes will be awarded to the winning troops.

Revival Services At Church Of God

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 19.— A wonderful interest is being manifest by the crowds that are attending the services at the Church of God. One of the things that is interesting the persons coming is the fine song program that is being put on each evening.

It was the privilege of the church to have with them last evening, Mr Baker and Mr. Wheel both from New Castle, who rendered two very effectual duets, "Alone," and "Don't Forget Jesus." After they were done singing the audience extended to them an invitation to return on Thursday evening, at which time Mr. and Mrs. Fury will be present also and there will be a special song program beginning at 7:30 instead of 7:45. Miss Loretta King also rendered an effectual solo. Miss King will be singing several evenings yet. Rev. Slacum sang that old, but ever loved and adored hymn, "The Great Judgment Morning."

The song service is in charge of Rev. Slacum who is producing each evening an interesting response from those who come. This evening, the Male Quartet will sing, also the mixed quartet will sing. Duets have been arranged for, and possibly a solo.

Rev. Kempin's messages increase in interest each night as the revival continues. He is unique in his presentation of old truths, and has the power to make them very realistic. On Monday evening he preached a very effectual sermon on the subject: "The Measur of Iniquity". On last evening he preached on the subject, from the text, "Christ, in You the hope of glory."

REVIVAL SERVICE

The impassioned plea of Evangelist Gibson at the Methodist church service last night resulted in a crowded altar, including several seekers. His sermon theme was "The Starvation Committee", and a large congregation listened with intense interest. A fine delegation from New Castle was in attendance and added greatly to the musical program, besides joining in the chorus work they presented a mixed quartet. Several new special selections were presented. The opening prayer was made by Richard Owrey and then the Evangelist launched into his most interesting sermon with great earnestness. The afternoon prayer meeting was held at the Ladies Aid meeting in the church.

Tonight is Church School Night and each class with its teacher will occupy reserved seats. The evangelist will preach on "What is your Life?" This sermon is of special interest and importance to young people who are especially invited.

Fathers And Sons Will Banquet Friday

Annual Event Will Be Held In The Dining Room Of The First Presbyterian Church

The happy relationship of Father and Son will be fully brought out Friday evening when these members of happy families gather together in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church for their annual banquet. This promises to be an outstanding social event as great enthusiasm has marked the preparations for the affair.

The Hershey chapter of the church is sponsoring the banquet and will prepare an excellent menu for the occasion.

Homer Drake has prepared an excellent program and will act as toastmaster for the after dinner speaking. Thomas H. Webber, Jr., is looking after the musical arrangements, and with him in charge, this part of the program will be worth listening to.

Dr. W. E. McClure, pastor of the church, will deliver the address of the evening, but address will hardly fit his informal talk, which will cover his trip to the Holy Lands this summer and the manner in which he presents his experiences is more as if he were talking to each individual separately and the oldest father and the youngest son will be intensely interested in his narrative.

Reservations for the banquet can be made until late this evening with Mrs. George Carpenter, Dr. Arthur Foster, Dr. C. C. Green, R. H. Kirkpatrick or Edwin Schmid.

Grange Praises Pro Grid Teams

Are Better Than Average College Team Says Former Famous "Galloping Ghost"

NOW STARTING TO DRAW FANS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—The average professional football team could defeat any good college eleven, in the opinion of Harold (Red) Grange the former Wheaton, Ill., iceman should know whereof he speaks, for as the backfield ace of the Chicago bears he has been romping through the best pro teams in the country this fall with much of the same care free abandon which marked his career at Illinois, six years ago.

The long-debated question of the relatives merits of college and professional elevens is to be answered for the first time here on Dec. 14 when the New York professional Giants meet a scrambled aggregation of Notre Dame stars, past and present, in a charity game. Grange went right out on the end of a limb today in predicting that the Giants would win.

Play Clean Football

"Although a college eleven may have as much offensive power as a professional team, the latter is much better defensively," said Grange. "Some pro lines average 230 pounds and you need a stick of dynamite to dent a wall like that."

In declaring that professional teams play clean football, the Auburn-thatched one smilingly recalled the bitter Illinois-Chicago battle of 1924 when he was bitten by over-zealous Chicago players.

"My legs were black and blue after that one," he grinned. "Every time there was a pile-up, some of the Chicago boys would hang on to me with their teeth."

Although admitting he will never get another thrill like the one he experienced in the Penn-Illinois game in 1925 when he ran wild and scored three touchdowns "Red" asserted he gets as much of a kick out of football today as he did in college days.

Drew Big Crowds

[illegible]'s first appearance in New York as a professional, in 1925 [illegible] fans packed the polo grounds for their first glimpse of the galloping ghost. While ten or fifteen thousand is a banner attendance for a professional game today Grange believes the time is not far distant when pro teams will play to packed stadiums regularly.

"We are bringing out a new type of spectator," he pointed out. "These new fans are being educated to the gridiron sport and should increase in numbers every year. Chicago, Green Bay and New York already are good pro towns."

Grange's gridiron reputation slumped in 1926 and 1927. In those days he walked to the stadium on crutches and played through half of the game so that contracts would not be cancelled. He suffered from water on the knee and a cartilage in one leg was out of place.

This fall, his fifth year in professional football, the Redhead has recovered from his injuries and is playing the game of his life. Last Sunday he ripped through the New York line for big gains, and has gotten away on long runs in other games.

Straight Salary

Grange is now working on a straight salary basis, some of his ventures with "cash and carry" Pyle evidently having cured him of the idea of going into business by himself. He plans to play another year or so and does not want to coach a college eleven.

Although he declared the hardest work he ever did was in the movies, the former iceman revealed he intends to take another crack at it.

"I may go back to Hollywood," he admitted. "Two or three dealers are pending.

"This winter I am to act as master of ceremonies in a unit show which will tour the South. Details have not been settled as yet, but the show is to open about Christmas.

"Red" is no novice before the footlights, having been in vaudeville in 1928 when he retired from professional football for a year. He declared he has no intention of remaining in the show business permanently.

Local High Team Starts Preparing For Turtle Creek

High Gridders Start Practicing For Game Following Two Day Rest

Following a two-day rest, the New Castle high school football team starts training this afternoon at Taggart field in preparation for Turkey Day when the locals meet Turtle Creek in the final grid game of the 1930 season.

The local eleven came through in good shape following the Youngstown South contest on Saturday. Andy Lasky, who injured his nose while carrying the ball, is somewhat improved. The remainder of the boys appear to be in good condition.

The game here on Thanksgiving Day is one of the important ones carded in schoolboy circles. A win for New Castle will oust Turtle Creek from the W. P. I. A. L. race and place the local red and black gridders right in the thick of the fight for honors.

The workout this afternoon will probably be a light one due to the fact that there still remains one week in which to practice. The locals will conclude training on Wednesday afternoon, the day prior to the battle.

The regular season ends on Thanksgiving Day but the New Castle team will probably play another game on December 6. The game will be a benefit affair. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Garoner is busily engaged trying to schedule an opponent. Martins Ferry high, coached by Alex Fox, former local grid star, is one of the opponents that is being considered.

Getting Ready For Floor Season

Holding Preliminary Workouts At Senior High For Coming Floor Season

With the 1930 grid season practically over the New Castle high school athletic officials will soon begin to turn their thoughts to the coming basketball season which is only about a month away. Preliminary workouts have begun.

The reason for starting the rehearsals so early is to give every boy an opportunity to show his wares and to see what the material for the floor season amounts to. Last season New Castle had one of the best teams in this history of the school, capturing 20 wins out of 21 games.

New Castle loses several of its regulars in mid-year. The local high school will again be a member of Section Three of the W. P. I. A. L.

Westminster To Lose Four Star Gridders

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 19.—The game with Bethany at Bethany, W. Va., on Saturday, November 22 ends the gridiron career of four Westminster players. These are Captain Russell Boone, Turtle Creek; Emmett Tweedy, Turtle Creek; William Armour, Sharon; and Ben Haldy, Turtle Creek.

Boone and Tweedy have played four years for Westminster and are rounding out their eighth year as teammates, having played together for four years at Turtle Creek Union high school. Boone has been center for four seasons, three times being designated as all-conference and all-district pivot man. Haldy, who transfered to Westminster, has been on the eleven three years. Armour, a tackle, has been on the squad for four years and has seen action in most of the games each year. This year Armour has been outstanding on the line.

Spying On Sports

by BILL RITT

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor

Glass jaws are meeting disaster and fistic crowns are toppling in the ring these days. The rapid-fire dethroning of Al Singer as lightweight monarch, an event which caused little or no grief in sporting circles outside the Bronx, New York, looks like the first of a series of quick executions of so-called fistic kings.

Singer and his fragile chin have been rubbed off the roster of ring royalty. Bat Battalino, the featherweight champion, appears to be the next victim. Bat meets Kid Chocolate in New York, Dec. 12. It is the Battler's first defense of his crown and probably his last.

Tommy Freeman, the Cleveland boy who now wears the welterweight toga, is another champion whose tenure of office seems destined to end the day he meets a good man.

And then there is Max Schmeling. Herr Max was on his way to defeat by the knockout route when chance saved the day and gave him the heavyweight championship. Max against Sharkey again or Bill Stribling would rate no better than even money—if that.

Freeman and Schmeling look to be no better champions than Singer was. Battalino compares unfavorably even with Singer as a fighter. And Al's jaw has now been definitely proven to consist chiefly of glass.

The surprising feature of the Singer-Canzoneri bout was that Al went into the ring against Tony a five-to-two favorite. These were supposed to be the odds despite the fact that Jimmy McLarnin had given Al a beautiful shellacking in his first fight since Al took the title from Mandell.

The lightweight title is now unique among ring crowns because, in the custody of Canzoneri, it is in first-class fighting hands. Tony is rugged, aggressive and smart. Though only 22, Tony has been fighting professionally for six years. And he knows how to behave as a champion, having held the featherweight title.

Incidentally, Canzoneri is the third man to wear the lightweight crown in a bit more than one round of championship lightweight milling. Singer won the title last summer from Sammy Mandell in two minutes and in his first championship fight, against Canzoneri, lost the crown in one minute and six seconds.

Leitzelter Dropped From Army Eleven

Former Carnegie Tech Grid Star Found To Be Beyond Legal Age Limit

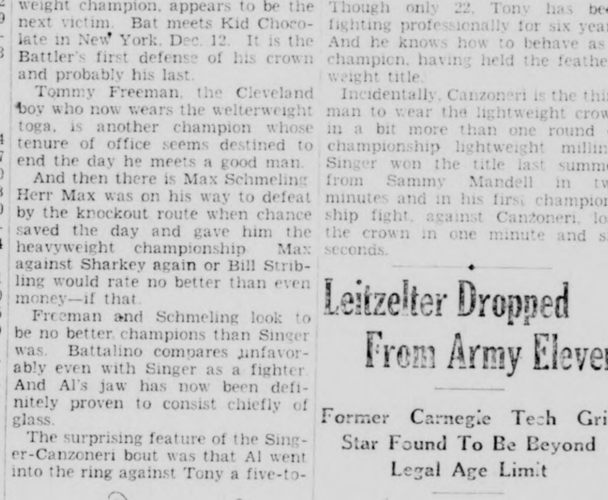
(International News Service)

WEST POINT, Nov. 19.—Cadet Harold J. Leitzelter, outstanding in the army football team's backfield, was dropped from the squad today.

It was discovered by the military academy authorities that he had entered West Point when he was beyond the legal age limit.

Leitzelter's loss, right before the Notre Dame and Navy games, is a hard blow to the Army's chances. He is a former Carnegie Tech backfield star.

VIKING LINEMAN STAR KICKER



Clarence Munn, star tackle of the Minnesota eleven, is one of the best booters in the middle west.

Gridiron Gossip

Quite a few freshmen players will see service in this impending Westminster-Bethany clash on Saturday, it is indicated. Coach Beede will send Shaffer, Ketterer, Hamas, Harper, Kozicki and Uram to the wars, while Coach Knight will counter with just about as many first-year men. Bethany has not won a game this year and the material is being combed to find some youth who can score touchdowns. Westminster has won three and lost five.

The W. & J. Presidents have announced their 1931 football program, and we find that it is a very attractive one. Bethany, Westminster and Thiel have been dropped from the card. The new teams are West Virginia Wesleyan, Western Maryland, Marshall, and Marquette. The remainder of the schedule calls for games with Carnegie Tech, Temple, Bucknell and West Virginia. It is a healthy group that Coach Amos and his boys must tackle next season.

Merle "Red" McIntoch, a former New Castle High fullback and lineman now cavorting the field for the Duke University Freshmen, was on the scoring end for the Dukes in a game recently. The Dukes downed Wake Forest Freshies 25 to 0. McIntosh is playing center for Duke. About midway of the game the New Castle boy grabbed a pass out of the ozone and raced 40 yards for the goal line. Three of the Duke touchdowns were made by linemen. The papers in Durham, North Carolina gave Mac a nice sendoff for his feature play. Horse Hendrickson former Beaver Falls High player is quarterbacking for the Duke Freshies, and Cavish, former California High player is playing right guard. McIntosh played against both of these boys while on the Ne Ca Hi team.

Carnegie Tech is preparing for a tough battle this week at Philadelphia when they meet Temple. The Tartans had a light week following their one-point defeat at the hands of the Pitt Panthers, but are making up for it this week. The Temple is feared by Coaches Steffen and Waddell. The Tech boys are all in good physical shape for the battle is looked for in the Quaker City. Temple holds a victory over W. & J. the team that Tech plays on November 29 in Pittsburgh.

Duquesne will have West Virginia Wesleyan, to take their spite out on at the Forbes Field arena on Saturday. The Dukes are mad clean through by that defeat administered to convincingly by Geneva last week. The men of Layden are anxious to atone themselves, and they realize that they are meeting a first-class team. The Bobcats will be touch customers and a defeat for the Dukes is not exactly a thing of uncertainty.

There was a real tussle last week in Reeves Stadium, Beaver Falls, and this week finds another hot game on the card. The annual Geneva-Allegheny clash is booked, you know what that means. The teams are tied for the top in the district. A victory for either team will give them the championship. Geneva will fight hard to lick the Alligators. The Crum coached machine will enter the game favored to win, but still it is anybody's game.

Jack Christman Is Back On Team

Recovers Sufficiently From Injury Sustained Several Weeks Ago To Play Again

According to the Indianapolis Star of the seventeenth Jack Christman of this city, veteran guard of the highly successful Purdue University football team of the present year, resumed practice on Monday after having been off duty with the squad for several weeks, owing to an injury to the shoulder sustained in the Purdue-Illinois game. His return to the lineup of the Purdue team, according to the item will bolster up the Purdue team for its hard game on Saturday with the University of Indiana. Offensive play was stressed and a warning against overconfidence in the game Saturday was sounded by the mentor of Purdue in starting practice for the coming game.

Marcella Eleven To Play Colored A. C.

Game Will Be Played On Saturday Afternoon At Centennial Field

With five games already on the winning side of the ledger, the Marcella football team will try for its sixth victory of the season when the Colored A. C. will oppose the South Siders at Centennial Field on Saturday. The kickoff whistle is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

The Marcella team this season is one of the best to represent the South Side in years and has on it several ex-high grid stars. "Tip" Richards, Angelo Mooney, Beres Dinsmore, DeThomas, DiMuccio and Fernati all saw action as members of the New Castle high team.

To date the Marcella combination has defeated, Oakland, Colored A. C., West Pittsburgh, Mahoningtown, and West Side. Croton who is also undefeated will meet the Marcellas for the Independent title of the city as a later date. The Marcellas may also play Ellwood City.

The South Siders would like to arrange for a game for Saturday, November 29 with Mahoningtown.

Junior Flier Is Halted By Weather At Harrisburg, Pa.

Gerald Nettleton, Attempting Cross-Country Flight, Held Up At Harrisburg

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Following the new transcontinental mail-passenger route, Gerald Nettleton, 20-year-old Toledo, Ohio, aviator seeking to establish a new junior transcontinental flying record, landed at the Harrisburg airport at 10:15 a. m. today.

Nettleton announced he would remain at the local airport until better flying weather was reported westward. He planned to hop to Pittsburgh, then to Port Columbus, O., but weather reports indicated flying conditions over the Allegheny Mountains between here and Pittsburgh were unfavorable and the youth announced he would postpone his next hop until the weather cleared.

Firemen's Relief Funds Made Ready

Warrants For Payment Of Relief Funds Sent Out From Auditor's Office

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Warrants for payment of $151,437 to the firemen's relief funds of cities, townships and boroughs, were being sent out from the auditor general's office here today, after being approved by Auditor General Charles A. Watters. The money for the payments is derived from the state tax on business of foreign fire insurance companies.

Other payments to the funds will be made this year, it was announced. Last year payments to the various relief funds totalled $810,190.

Checks for many municipalities, it was said, will be held up because municipal authorities failed to fulfill provisions of the act of 1929.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have not yet put in their claims for payments, it was stated, and others who have made no claims yet are Carbon, Cameron, Clinton, Franklin, Huntingdon, Lawrence, Montour, Snyder, Susquehanna, Union, Venango, Wayne and Wyoming counties.

Chief of Police Joseph Verderber and three firemen fighting the blaze narrowly escaped injury when the roof of the garage collapsed.

Allied Jewish Drive Comes To Close With Meeting In Center

Local Jewry Subscribes $2,500 To Campaign For Reconstruction Abroad

New Castle's participation in the national fund raising effort to raise $6,000,000 by the Allied Jewish campaign for the American Joint Distribution committee and the Jewish Agency, reached a close in the Beth Shalom Center, Boyles avenue on Tuesday evening, when the district chairman, Harry H. Frank, Esq., members of the executive committee and teams made their final reports on the local campaign.

Chairman Frank said that when the report is received from a few more teams the total amount in cash and subscriptions for the drive in the city will reach a total of approximately $2,500. The amount of $1,500 was subscribed at a mass meeting in the Castleton ballroom on November 9, when Judge Wm. M. Lewis of Philadelphia inaugurated the campaign here with an address.

The fund will be utilized in the reconstruction work on behalf of the destitute Jews of Eastern Europe and for the program of the Jewish Agency for Palestine to aid in the development there of a Jewish homeland.

Samuel Shulman, field representative in Western Pennsylvania was present when the final executive committee meeting was held in the Center Tuesday. It was announced that a committee has been formed to conduct a similar drive in Ellwood City within the next 10 days. It is understood that Attorney Morris J. Kraus will act as chairman.

The local campaign came to a close when the four teams that canvassed the city made their reports. Additional contributions to the extent of $900 to the previous announced subscriptions featured the meeting.

The campaign here was undertaken by the following committee: Honorary chairman, Dr. Eliah Kaplan; chairman, Harry H. Frank, Esq. vice chairmen, L. Kohn, Ben Kline, Louis Sandler; secretary, Nathan Love; treasurer, L. Ruzewich; publicity chairman, Jack Gerson and Dr. H. A. Frank; reception committee, Mrs. L. Kohn, Mrs. Ben Kline; executive committee, L. J. Miller, Dr. M. Davis, Mrs. L. Sandler, Rabbi S. I. Zakuto, S. H. Levine, A. Marlin, Mrs. Edward Master, Joseph Morosky, Alec Samuels, Rabbi J. B. Menkes, Rabbi J. Shapo, Abraham H. Gonick, Abe Levine, M. J. Kraus, Esq., Nathan Feldman, Max Groden, Ben Balter and A. Stein.

POLICE PROBING ROADWAY DEATH

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 19.—State police have been asked by Coroner Harry C. McCarter to investigate the death of Weidie Radulovic, 50, laborer in the employ of the Ferguson - Edmondson company, contractors, at Josephtown. The man was found unconscious along the highway near the plant of the St. Joseph Lead company yesterday afternoon. A post-mortem disclosed the man died from internal injuries.

Man Digs Out Four Trees, Fined $100 By Local Alderman

Game Protector McClure Digs Out Unknown State Forest Law And Presses Case

An undesignated Mahoning township man who dug out four maple trees from the Robinson farm, Mahoning township, and who was arrested by Game Protector James R McClure for violation of the Pennsylvania forests laws, on Tuesday evening was fined $100 for not heeding a little-known state law, in the office of a local alderman.

The peculiar law is section 2, No 706 of the forest laws and provides that one-half of any fine collected under the provisions of the act be paid by the alderman to the person furnishing information of the violation and the other half into the county treasury for the use of the county.

The alderman who meted out the fine, $25 for each tree taken away, would not disclose the name of the offender.

The opening clause of the law reads: "If any person shall wilfully or maliciously cut bark from, or cut down, injury, destroy or remove a trees or trees, shrub or shrubs or parts thereof, growing or standing upon the land of another, without the consent of the owner; or shall wilfully or maliciously do or cause to be done any other act to the damage of said land or the trees or shrubs growing thereon, such person on conviction thereof, in a summary proceeding shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than $25 and costs of prosecution for each such tree or shrub, etc."

The game protector will receive $50 from the fine, the alderman said.

Naval Recruit Is Visiting Mother

Earl Zellman, who enlisted at the local recruiting station of the navy, O. O. Pierson, chief electrician's mate, officer in charge, on the first of September, has arrived here on a 12-day leave of absence for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Edna McHattie, of R. D. No. 1. He likes the navy very much and had opportunities of advancement in the near future. He is at present located at the Great Lakes training school and is a hospital assistant, second class.

He expected to be transferred to the hospital corps training school at San Diego, Cal., in the near future.

Pittsburgh Man Is Held As Embezzler

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—William H. Mort, 23, of Pittsburgh, today was held here pending the arrival of Altoona authorities who are said to want Mort for the alleged embezzlement of $619.87 from the Burns Coal Company of Altoona.

Mort was arrested by city detectives at his home last night on a warrant sworn to by Thomas L. Jones, a member of the firm, police said.

WANT TO SERVE ON JURY

Women in the state of New York are not permitted to serve on the jury. The New York State League of Women Voters, therefore, is presenting planks to the platform committees of both major parties asking that that privilege be granted them.

When you are sending in a tray of breakfast for invalid or guest, check over the items to be sure that all necessary utensils are there.

Mission Societies To Present Pageant

A thank offering pageant, "Missionary Arithmetic" will be presented by the three missionary societies of the Third United Presbyterian church Thursday evening with the Thank Offering secretaries of each society in charge, Mrs. Harry Gibson, Mrs. Elmer Rice, Mrs. John Boston and Mrs. William McKissick.

Those taking part in the program are Mrs. Walter Earl, Mrs. J. A. Cox, Mrs. J. W. Rupert, Mrs. E. E. Gardner, Mrs. J. A. Kocher, Mrs. Dave Brown, Mrs. Lale Christy, Annabel Rodgers, Jane Kyle and Maude Zeigler.

The Thank Offering will be received at the Sunday morning service.

COFFEE AND SUGAR SOUGHT BY MISSION

Appealing for more donations of coffee and sugar, Superintendent B. J. Watkins of the City Rescue mission today asked residents for continued support. Clothing contributions are also desired.

The mission truck makes its rounds of the city on Tuesday and Friday each week.

Snow Still Missing, Highway Department Not Taking Chances

Snow drifts may be postponing their unwelcome visits in Lawrence and Mercer counties for many more days, but the State Highway Department is not going to take any chances. The department superintendent in the two counties, H. W. Lightner said today that his men have practically completed the erection of snow fences in the counties —21,678 feet in Lawrence and 35,680 feet in Mercer.

DIVISION MAY GET NEW CAB CONTROL EQUIPMENT LATER

Inauguration of a new million-dollar automatic cab signaling system on the Pennsylvania railroad's main line from Pittsburgh to Altoona affects the Erie and Ashtabula division in no way whatever, O. A. Ishler, supervisor of telegraph and signals said today.

The new system is so constructed as to stop speeding trains automatically when tracks ahead become obstructed.

It is belived that in time the new control equipment may be extended to the division here.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 19.—Helen Marie Stevenson, 22, of Kansas City, is the only student of her sex to enroll in the school of medicine at the University of Missouri.

Daily she goes to classes with scores of men students and says she likes it. Although she is in her first year as a medical student and is studying basic courses, she has decided to specialize in obstetrics.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

America's "first ten" in amateur sport was announced yesterday at the closing session of the Amateur Athletic union convention. They are: Bobby Jones, golf; Clarence DeMar, veteran marathon runner; Helene Madison, youthful swimmer; Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, queen of the net courts; Barney Berlinger all-round track and field athlete of the University of Pennsylvania; Miss Stella Walsh, sprinter, Cleveland; Ray Ruddy, Columbia U swimming ace and former Olympic team member; Thomas Hitchcock Jr., captain of America's international polo team; Harlow Rothert Stanford university football, basketball and shot put star, and George Simpson, great sprinter from Ohio State. As predicted, Avery Brundage of Chicago was re-elected to serve as president for a third one-year term.

George Compton, Rochester, Pa. boxer, suffered a relapse while apparently recovering from a bullet wound in his abdomen received several months ago at Rochester, and is back in the hospital. Compton was shot when a woman is alleged to have fired at another man. Compton is the chap who fought Bobby Belford and other pugilists here.

Jack Kearns is urging a world's heavyweight championship clash between Mickey Walker and Max Schmeling. According to Jack's literature Walker would bring the title back to the United States. Recently Walker experienced little difficulty beating Johnny Risko at Detroit. Kearns would have the bout staged at Soldiers field, Chicago May 31, 1931.

Truck Driver Out On Bond, Girl Is Fatally Injured

(International News Service)

AVELLA, Pa., Nov. 19.—George Morris, 18, of Steubenville, O., was freed under bond today pending an inquest into the death of four-year-old Rose Marie Murphy, who was killed instantly last night when struck by a truck in front of her home here.

The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Murphy.

Funeral arrangements for Rose Marie have not been completed.

Chicago Wedding Is Expected Will Unite Gang Chiefs

Capone's Sister Will Wed Brother Of Arch Rival, In Chicago

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The high and the low of Chicago and even the police today were awaiting a marriage which, like the medieval royal wedding of old, is to unite two leading houses. But they are families of the racket world.

And this ceremony, which bids to unite the house of Capone with that of Frank Diamond, fellow public enemy of Alphonse Capone, was arranged in the medieval manner without taking the young persons involved into consultation.

Thus Mafalda Capone, 18-year-old sister of Al Capone, will go to the altar with John Maritote, 23, (a brother of Diamond), more in the cause of business expediency than love, investigation by the Chicago crime commission has shown. The marriage is expected to draw the two factions into a closer union.

Maritote had drawn out a marriage license, planning to wed another girl, but the reluctance of others intervened, it is reported. Maritote is quoted as saying he had hardly seen Capone's sister in the last year.

Capone is reported to have promised a home and $50,000 dowry to his comely sister when she marries.

Hard times are those when people stop feeding the cows and wonder why there are no jobs for milkers.

Among the illiterati: The Boston girl who was so modest that she wouldn't use any improper nouns.

THERE'S A LONG LONG TRAIL

NO need to start home early because your car has been standing outside. The new winter Mobilgas will start a cold motor on the coldest night!

Here is the reason: Weather prophets predict an old-fashioned winter—the kind they used to have when the old songs were new. And we are ready for it with the most modern gasoline—Mobilgas for winter. It has behind it the same skill and experience and quality that have made Mobiloil Arctic right for zero temperatures the world over.

Mobilgas for winter is now in all our pumps. It will start your car quicker. It will save drain on your battery. It will shorten the pull on the choke that floods the carburetor and thins oil to the danger-point.

Thus you buy convenience and protection in Mobilgas for winter, yet it sells at the same price as regular gasoline.

Switch for one cold night and let your car decide!

Supervisors and others will take notice that the report in the following cases will be presented to the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, for confirmation on Wednesday, December 3rd, 1930 at 1:30 p. m., of said day.

No. 3 June Sessions, 1930, to vacate two sections of the public road leading from Edenburg to Hillsville in Mahoning Township, bounded and described as follows:—

FIRST SECTION:—Beginning at a point in said improved highway, which point is one thousand two hundred ninety six (1296) feet westward from the point where said improved highway is intersected by a public highway leading in a southerly direction to the Mt. Jackson and Hillsville public road, which point is marked on the map attached to this report and marked exhibit "C", as station 818 plus 24.3; thence, following the middle line of the road proposed to be vacated, south seventy two degrees forty five minutes west (S 72° 45' W), for a distance of nine hundred thirteen (913) feet; thence north seventy degrees fifty two minutes west (N 70° 52' W), for a distance of one hundred thirty five (135) feet; thence north thirty nine degrees thirty nine minutes West (N 39° 39' W), for a distance of five hundred forty seven (547) feet; thence north forty five degrees twenty minutes West (N 45° 20' W), for a distance one hundred forty-one and three tenth (141.3) feet; thence South sixty four degrees eleven minutes West (S 64° 11' W), for a distance of one hundred ten (110) feet; thence North eighty two degrees fifty minutes West (N 82° 50' W), for a distance of one hundred eight (108) feet, to a point which is three thousand seventy two (3072) feet from the point of intersection of the two roads above referred to, and which point is marked on said map as station 836.

SECOND SECTION:—Beginning at a point on said road which point is six hundred forty seven (647) feet West of the point where said highway is intersected by the highway leading Southward therefrom to the Mt. Jackson and Hillsville public road, which said point is marked on the map attached to this report and marked exhibit "(D)" as station 811 plus 75; thence, following the middle line of the road proposed to be vacated, North seventy two degrees forty five minutes East (N 72° 45' E), for a distance of four hundred eighty nine (489) feet; thence North sixty one degrees nineteen minutes East (N 61° 19' E), for a distance of forty nine and one-half (49½) feet; thence North thirty five degrees forty five minutes East (N 35° 45' E), for a distance of sixty (60) feet; thence North twenty four degrees twenty seven minutes East (N 24° 27' E), for a distance of two hundred sixty one and seven tenths (261.7) feet; thence North twenty six degrees twenty two minutes East (N 26° 22' E), for a distance of one hundred sixty nine and four tenth (169.4) feet; thence North thirty one degrees four minutes East (N 31° 4' E), for a distance of four hundred thirty six and six tenth (436.6) feet; thence North twenty nine degrees nineteen minutes East (N 29° 19' E), for a distance of three hundred forty seven (347) feet; thence North thirty degrees thirty two minutes East (N 30° 32' E), for a distance of six hundred eighty two (682) feet; thence North fifty degrees East (N 50° E), for a distance of one hundred seventy nine (179) feet; thence North fifty nine (N 59° E), for a distance of one hundred forty nine and one-half (149½) feet; thence North seventy six degrees eighteen minutes East (N 76° 18' E), for a distance of one hundred eleven and one-half (111½) feet; thence North eighty nine degrees thirty five minutes East (N 89° 35' E), for a distance of three hundred two (302) feet, to a point which is two thousand six hundred fifty three (2653) feet eastward from the point of intersection of the two roads or highways above mentioned, which point is marked on said map hereto attached, as Station 778 plus 75.

No. 5 September Sessions, 1930, to vacate a portion of a public road, being a portion of the public road laid out between Beaver and Mercer and extending from Station 77 to Station 96 on Route No. 614 of the Pennsylvania State Highway, as re-located December 22, 1927.

Said road recommended to be vacated being situate in Hickory Township, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, and being described as follows:

Beginning at Station No. 77 on Route No. 614 of the Pennsylvania State Highway, North of the Village of East Brook and extending to Station No. 96 on the said Route, as relocated December 22, 1927, which station was 96+45 on the road before relocation, and being a distance of approximately nineteen hundred forty five (1945) feet or three hundred sixty eight thousandths (.368) of one mile.

No. 4 September Sessions, 1930, to vacate a portion of the Public Road in Hickory Township, being a portion of the Public Road laid out between Beaver and Mercer and extending in a north-westerly direction from the intersection thereof with the McCurdy Mill Road to Station No. 51 on State Highway Route No. 614 as relocated December 22, 1927.

The road hereby vacated and which is hereby specifically found by the Viewers to be useless, inconvenient and burdensome and no longer necessary for public travel is more particularly described as follows:

Being a portion of a public road laid out pursuant to the Act of Assembly approved April 10, 1807, P. L. 244, as appears by proceedings in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Mercer County, Pennsylvania, as entered in Road Docket A., page 19, which begins at the intersection thereof with a road known as McCurdy's Mill Road and extends in a north-westerly direction a distance of 1,857 feet to Station 51 on State Highway Route known as Route No. 614 of the Pennsylvania State Highway as relocated, which is the same point as Station 52 plus 90 on the old location; each terminus of the road proposed to be vacated being in a a public highway, said public road being located in Hickory Township.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stocks Are Higher In Early Trading

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Under the lead of the Motor stocks and the Specialities, the stock market reached ahead for a higher level of prices in the early trading today. The insolvency of another exchange member was without special effect.

Speculative interest in the Motors was stimulated by the iron age's report of increased buying of Steel by the car manufatcurers. Hudson sold up 2¼ points at 26¼; General Motors up a point at 36; Electric Auto-Lite up 2¼ at 49. Chrysler was in good demand at 18, the best price since the change in the dividend announced last week.

The Amusement stocks attempted to renew the advance which was interrupted by Monday's reaction. Fractionally higher prices in dull trading in nearly all sections of the market were recorded in the second hour, Bethlehem Steel advancing to above 64; U. S. Steel to 146¼; Westinghouse to 102¼; Sears Roebuck to 50½; Standard Oil of N. J. to 54.

A slight rally in Winnipeg Wheat was encouraging to the bulls, who have been fearful of a reaction there that might eventually spread to the American markets. Cotton held steadily and outside commodities were unchanged. The stock market continued dull but firm near the noon period. Money loaned at 1¼ per cent in the outside market, with 2 per cent quoted on the board.

Nine-Tenths Of One Per Cent Decline Shown In Retail Food Prices

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A small decline, amounting to nine tenths of one per cent, took place in retail food prices in October as compared with September, while the decrease since October a year ago amounted to 10 per cent, the Bureau of Labor statistics announced today.

At the same time it was announced that the fall in wholesale prices was nearly 2 per cent, making the purchasing of the 1926 dollar $1.211.

Stock Exchange Suspends Firm

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov 19—Announcement was made from the rostrum of the New York Stock Exchange this morning that the firm of Bauer Pogue, Pond and Vivian, New York, had been suspended for insolvency.

The partners in the firm include Frederick R. Bauer, Robert L. Pond, D. Harry Lake, Leslie L. Vivian, Morgan H. McClement, Vance L. Bushnell, Davenport Pogue, and William Henry Jones.

Out of town offices are also maintained in Albany, New York, and Knoxville, Tennessee.

UPARATASA FRATERNITY CONSTITUTION IS MADE

The new constitution of the Uparatasa fraternity was presented at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening. It was announced by Archie McClintock, secretary. The document was presented for discussion and revision.

Ed Beal had charge of the meeting. Devotions were led by Homer Rosser. Elmo Moncrief, chairman of the membership committee announced a list of names of boys suggested for the club. Names were assigned to members who will interview prospective members.

Three members were admitted. They were Jim Boockter and the two Wyman brothers. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

The court held with the railroad. The judges reasoned thus:

The general rule is that where an individual or corporation contracts with another individual or corporation to do a work that is not unlawful nor dangerous to others, the work to be done according to the contractor's own methods, the employer in that case is not liable for the negligence of the contractor nor his agents. The railroad here had such a contract with the construction firm and it therefore could not be held for the wrongs of the other.

Expect Decision Soon On Appeal In Irene's Case

In Event Supreme Court Decision Is Unfavorable Pardon Board To Get Appeal

In the event that the Pennsylvania Supreme Court refuses the appeals of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague for new trials, their attorneys will carry the case to the Pardon Board it was stated today by Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, counsel-in-chief for the two who are now under death sentence for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul on December 17th, 1929.

Because of the time element, it will be impossible for the case to come before the November session of the Pardon Board, and highly improbable that the board would consider it in December inasmuch as that session will be the last to be held by the present board. Hence, it seems certain that the cases will hang over until the new administration takes office.

The decision in the two cases is expected to be handed down by the Supreme Court on November 24th. Should they be adverse, the governor will then set the date of the execution, but the custom has always been that a date is set which allows the convicted person to carry his case up to the Pardon Board.

Before a case can be carried to the Pardon Board according to Mr. Dickey it is necessary to advertise it for two weeks before the appeal goes up, the court, and the commonwealth counsel must be given notice of the appeal.

An appeal to the Pardon Board is not an appeal for a new trial. It amounts to a plea for mercy inasmuch as commutation from the death chair is asked. The most that could be hoped for would be a commutation to life imprisonment.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Along about this time of year the travel lust hits a fellow right in a vital spot. No particular reason for it perhaps unless it be those windows with travel pictures hung up, or the fact that the morning fog seems to be the forerunner of the snow, or it may be that it is just hankering for a ride.

Whatever it is, those highly colored tomes of the travel bureaus have a strange appeal. On the desk is a folder of a world tour which takes only four months and costs plenty of money, but while the hike hanker is on it will lay there, a reminder of places we have never seen.

Leaving New York you shoot down around Cuba and the Canal, and from there to the Pacific Coast. Then Hawaii, Japan, China, The Phillippines, Siam, Straits Settlement, Dutch East Indies, Sumatra, Ceylon, India, Egypt, Greece, Italy, The Riviera, Spain and thence back to New York.

Not a bad trip, if one has something to use for money. Places to go, things to see, strange faces and strange cities, with the scenery changing like a kaleidoscope.

There are two places that sort of rank up along the top in desire and those two are Pago Pago and Tahiti. Since the night, years ago, when we saw the late Jeanne Eagels play "Sadie Thompson" in "Rain", Pago Pago has been on the list. And Tahiti, if memory serves correct is that island of enchantment in the Pacific where the natives sit under the trees and have their lunch dropped to them from trees.

Hong Kong, Bombay, Penang, Tangiers, Monaco, Batavia, all of them have an appeal, and all of them just names. But some day——.

Arch Cubbison has the summer camping fever already. Seems as though a camper can rent one hundred square feet in the Allegheny National Forest up around Tionesta, for ten dollars per year, and now Cub wants to know how long it has been going on.

Everybody has some speciality and Cubbison's is camping. With no attempt to disparage any camper in the state, it is our private opinion that he is one of the world's best. After two weeks spent in a canoe with him on the Allegheny River our testimony is not hearsay.

There was an outfit here one time known as the Henlifters. A rather suggestive name, but merely a name. The Henlifters had a camp out near the Harbor and what a place to get a meal. If you were ever fortunate enough to get invited out there for supper you will recall the excellency of the cuisine.

This travel talk has already consumed more space than it rates, but once the lure is on time and tide and the price of tripe have no appeal and no significance.

Far be it from this colyum to be belittling, but have you seen Councilman Stan Treser's iron mike? Saw him in the city engineer's truck the other afternoon and had to take a second look to be sure that it was the gentleman himself.

Bo'Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—When a woman fails at everything else she opens a boarding house.

When a Lit'ry Guy finds himself slippin,' he takes to writing biographies.

It's been a tough season for the Inky Boys. They've biographed everybody from Al. Capone to Pocohontas.

Nobody has been overlooked.

There are more lives of great men and women on the market than there are suckers on Broadway.

OFFICIAL LEADERS.

Two members of a former Washington administration have the lit'ry market by the slack o' the pants.

Cal. Coolidge is the year's highest paid writer.

Gaston B. Means' story of "The Strange Death of President Harding" is the Best Seller.

SUPERFLUOUS.

None of the professional book reviewers gave the Gaston Means story a tumble. In spite of their coldness and neglect the Man-in-the-Ford has gone right ahead buying the book.

All of which proves that a reviewer is just about as important, in the scheme of things, as a fourth ball in a pawnbroker's sign.

Signor Esposito, my prune seller, calls his fruit and vegetable establishment the "Epicure Market."

I asked him the other day where he got the word "Epicure" and he said: "Off a can o' peas."

READY TO HELP?

When it comes to generosity the Raspberry with the Three Palms goes to the shoe dealer in Tammany Town who got on the radio last night to herald the fact that he stood ready to do his bit to aid the Army of the Unemployed.

"All you got to do," he said, "if you're out o' work an' want a pair o' shoes, is come round to my place an' be sure th' clerk gives you a good, comfortable fit. Pick out any price shoes you want, leave a small deposit, an' then drop in any time durin' th' month, pay th' balance an' take th' shoes home.

If the seats on the Stock Exchange keep getting cheaper they'll soon be selling them at Joe Leblangs.

A colored man went into a pawnbroker's shop on Eighth Avenue and asked him if he had a pair of "crooked" dice.

The pawnbroker laughed.

"No," he said, "I don't carry 'em. Them's things guys don't have to hock."

TROLLEY CAR VIGNETTES:

A greek with a package of freshly ground, aromatic coffee . . . A drunk, flirtatiously inclined . . . a girl with gold teeth and a wad of listerated gum . . . a nervous man, whose perturbation may have been traceable to the fact that the guitar case he carried probably did not hold a guitar . . . a seaman in civilian clothes and a sailor cap, talking with the soft, alluring flavor of a Latin, making love to a bovinely stupid servant girl sporting a virginal white hat—sitting with her feet far apart, her pudgy bankroll bulging her right stocking just above the knee—listening to his murmuring with her hungry, love-starved soul expressing itself by the continuous batting of her eye-lids.

A LEGAL FLAW.

The man from the Health Department testified that he had seen the dog playing on the street while Joey was standing on the porch, so he wrote out a summons for the boy's mother and entrusted it to Joey to serve.

Joey was summoned before the Magistrate.

"Ready for the worst?" inquired the Court.

"Yes, sir," said Joey.

"What kind of a dog have you got?"

"A mutt."

"Any particular kind?"

"No, sir, jes' a mutt."

"All right," said the Judge. "Go home and tell your mother you won the case. The summons was not properly served."

Sunny Avenue Scholars Present Splendid Program For Approval Of Parents

The November meeting of the Union township Parents-Teachers association was held Tuesday evening in the Sunny avenue school with over 200 parents of the scholars in attendance.

Morris Cox, president of the association, had the meeting in charge and gave a splendid talk on the meaning of the association after which the different rooms presented demonstrations in their rooms, each grade putting on a program.

The first graders gave an instrumental program, their orchestra being directed by one of the small scholars. The third and fourth grades presented health programs which were carried out in a clever manner. The second and fifth grades presented miscellaneous programs and the sixth grade had a consistory demonstration, each country being represented by a scholar dressed in the native costume of that particular country which was represented.

A pleasing cornet duet was played by Mr. Duff, musical director of the schools, and Chester Gierlach, a fifth grade pupil.

A number of new members were enrolled at the Tuesday evening meeting and plans were made for an interesting December meeting which will be held in the Union high school December 16.

Spanish Priests Reported Slain

SHANGHAI, Nov. 19.—Eighteen Spanish Augustinian priests in scattered stations of interior China have been captured or killed by roving outlaws, it was learned here today.

English Satirist Gives Some Of His Impressions About United States

By LOUIS MILLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—Labor doles to the unemployed—so long necessary in England and so often derided and decried by Americans—may become a like necessity in America if better times do not soon return to this country.

So predicted Gilbert K. Chesterton, English writer, satirist and journalist today. The situation is becoming so acute, the rotund and affable Chesterton believes, that unemployment doles by the government are not impossible.

Chesterton declared politics, as played by the average politician does not take the average voter into consideration; the granting of votes to women didn't do much to improve the political situation in England or the United States, and prohibition is much more unpopular in America now than it was ten years ago on the occasion of his last visit.

Discusses Prohibition

"Many people voted for prohibition as a 'noble experiment'—but by now they are probably sadly mistaken," Chesterton said.

"As an outsider I don't want to hazard too hasty an opinion, but I'm afraid some modification will come soon. That seems to be the way the wind is blowing.

Passage of Eighteenth Amendment, the novelist declared, was sponsored by the big employers "to determine whether abstinence produced 100 per cent efficiency on the part of the employes."

As to politics, Chesterton believes leaders are made by the inner workings of "machines" and that the voter in the streets—in Great Britain as well as America—is never taken into consideration.

A stalwart defender of the church and consistent critic of those who flaunt it, Chesterton is of the opinion that church-goers of today count for more than those who flocked to the portals in the past.

Church-going in years gone by was a social custom, a custom since eliminated by the march of time, he said, and those who profess faith now do so because of a respect for the Infinte Being and therefore are more valuable to religion.

Rev. C. F. Smith To Speak Tonight

Rev. C. F. Smith of the Youngstown Second Primitive Methodist church will be the speaker this evening in the Primitive church of this city, which is conducting a series of revival services. There will be several duets and special music feature the program.

Rev. S. Stiner of the Free Methodist church brought a strong message Tuesday evening, his subject being "Jesus the Savior."

League Managers To Hold Last Meeting

The final meeting of the Y. M. C. A. church basketball managers will be held at the "Y" Thursday at 7:15 p. m. Physical Director MacNicholas urges all managers to be present, as it will be the last meeting of the board before the opening of the league playing on Thanksgiving.
